TAKE NAVY RESOLUTION DIVISION NOT LATER THAN THURSDAY NIGHT

PARTY WHIPS AGREE ON PRESENT DEBATE

Prolonged Debate Left Over Until Second Reading of Bill Comes 11

COL. H. H. McLEAN AND W. M. MARTIN SPEAK

Member for Regina Insists on Increased Representation Before Policy Disposed of

Ottawa, Feb. 8.—At a late hour last night the parliamentary situation cleared to the extent that it was settled if there is to be a prolonged fight over the naval proposals of the government, it will be in the second reading of the bill, and not on the resolution stage. The party whips got together and agreed that the debate on the resolution will be concluded not later than next Thursday evening, when a division will be taken.

What will happen when the second reading is taken up is not known, although the agreement to vote on the resolution is taken in some quarters to indicate that the possibilities of a fight are not so great as they have been considered up to the present time.

An interesting development of the debate to-day was a speech by Col. H. H. McLean, Liberal member for Sunbury and Queens, who joined with W. F. Maclean and Major Sam Sharpe, of North Ontario in advocating the practical adoption of both the Conservative and Liberal policies.

Col. McLean had a new suggestion, however, and it was that after voting the three Dreadnoughts, the leaders of the two parties should agree to a permanent policy. He suggested a Canadian defence committee, representative of both parties, to confer with the Admiralty and evolve a plan which could be submitted to the people by way of a plebiscite. He expressed himself as being convinced that there is a German peril, and said that Canadians would not be doing their duty if they did not get on the fighting line.

W. M. Martin, of Regina, who preceded Col. McLean, was strongly in favor of the Liberal policy of a Canadian navy. He declared that the question should not be definitely disposed of until the west had been given increased representation. Mr. Martin also stated that he would not be opposed to the matter being referred to the people. The question, he said, was one which would change the whole position of the British Empire, and he lamented that the government side of the House should see fit to discontinue participation in a debate which had such important bearings.

"I would not want to say that the prime minister has gagged his followers," he said. "Rather, I think I recognize the coarse—or fine—hand of the minister of public works, who is accustomed to such tactics, but I would like to say to his colleagues in the House."

Mr. Martin said that in going through the province of Ontario he had found more people opposed to doing anything at all with regard to the navy than in the province of Saskatchewan. He said if the people of Ontario were given their choice of a contribution, a Canadian navy or nothing at all, he ventured to say that outside the city of Toronto, there would be a majority in favor of doing nothing at all, and the Ontario members knew this, which was the reason that so few of them had been heard in the House on the navy question. He would certainly claim that the great majority of people whom he represented in the West did not agree with that view as a result of what had been going on among the nations. It was right and proper that something should be done to insure the naval supremacy of Britain. The only question was how it could best be done.

He felt sure that there were western members on the government side who would have been most ready to give their views of the question had they been permitted. He had seen the member for Souris working industriously in the library, and felt sure that at this very moment he had a speech on the naval question in his inside pocket. And there was the member for Selkirk who was longing to be heard on the question. The member for Calgary, too, who had just returned from the foot of the throne, where he had been hobnobbing with members of the Privy Council and others. All these should have had an opportunity to speak.

"I was sitting in my room this morning," said Mr. Martin, "when I heard a great noise coming from the Conservative room, where the caucus was in progress. I think it would be better for the government members if they were less in caucus and more in the House."

The Regina member quoted from the speech of H. B. Morphy, of North Perth, to the effect that in 1912, Canada spent not a dollar on the navy, though

W. M. MARTIN

Member for Regina, who exposed government tactics on naval proposals in House yesterday.

other Dominions of the Empire spent large amounts. Mr. Martin said he would like to ask whose fault this was if not that of the Borden government which was in power during all of 1912.

The resolution of 1909, he said, contemplated nothing else than a Canadian navy built in Canada and manned in Canada, and he quoted at length from the speech of Hon. George E. Foster on that resolution to show that this was the very idea that Mr. Foster had in mind. But the Conservative party had changed its views, had been forced to change its idea of the Canadian navy and to go over to the contribution idea as a direct result of the Nationalist influence.

Proceeding, he quoted from the speeches of leading Nationalists, Deputy Speaker Blondin, Hon. Mr. Pelletier and others, to show that they had been opposed to the idea of Canada building a navy. The present policy, he held, was a policy of expediency, and even at that it had resulted in throwing one minister overboard already—Hon. Mr. Monk—who at least was true to his convictions. Mr. Martin said he was forced to the conclusion that the policy of the contributive party was a policy of contribution, and that the present vote was the first dose of it.

Continuing, Mr. Martin said that Mr. Pelletier's speech was designed for Quebec consumption. He said that the whole matter would be ended with one contribution and that the Canadian navy would lead to conscription. On the other hand, Mr. Foster's speech was for consumption in Ontario.

He had said that the present proposal was only the beginning and that there would be a permanent naval policy. It had been stated in the House, and not denied, that the government had given a secret pledge to abolish the naval service act. Whether this is true or not he could not say, but the government had allowed the expenditure made by the late government to go to waste and had done everything it can do to discourage the Canadians from joining the navy.

Mr. Martin referred to the fact that all the western members represented constituencies containing a population in excess of that which they would be entitled to in the event of redistribution. For this reason, he said, a redistribution bill should be passed before this act is allowed to become law. He did not say that the government proposal was not constitutional under the terms of the B. N. A. Act, although the minister of justice and Mr. Monk, minister of public works, had both expressed the view that Canada has no right to make the proposed contribution.

Mr. Martin objected to the proposal because it would shift a great responsibility which the government and the people of Canada should assume to the government of Great Britain. On the other hand, he said, if we commence to build a small Canadian navy, it would grow and in the course of time Canadians would be proud of it. Mr. Borden had said that it would take from twenty-five to fifty years to build a Canadian navy. This is all the more reason why we should get to work at once. The policy of centralization which was involved in the government's proposal, he said, was the old Tory doctrine. It would not work out in a manner satisfactory to the Empire.

P. Michaud, Liberal member for Victoria-Madawaska, who followed with a short speech, said that the policy of the government was "no speech and no navy." The ministers when in London, he learned that the greatest fleet in the world is in danger from a smaller fleet. The Admiralty memorandum did not establish that the Empire is in any danger, or that there was any necessity for the gift of three Dreadnoughts which would have to be manned and maintained by the Admiralty.

Col. H. H. McLean, Queens-Sunbury, at the outset of his speech, quoted with approval, the statements made earlier in the debate by Sam Sharpe, North Ontario, in which Mr. Sharpe had advocated the combination of the government and the opposition proposals, and

GLASS IN OXFORD STREET IS BROKEN

Telegrams to North of England Delayed Because of Depredations of Militant Women

London, Feb. 8.—Uprooting orchids and destroying flower beds in public gardens after concealing themselves in the boundaries of the gardens before closing time at night, are the latest methods of the militant suffragettes in England in their crusade towards getting the vote for women. They destroyed many valuable plants and did other damage reaching a total of $6,000 last night in the hot-houses of the Kew horticultural gardens.

The damage is believed to have been done shortly before daylight, and that the women hid themselves over-night and then went into hiding again after committing the depredations, emerging from the gardens into the public streets when the gates were opened this morning. When the damage was discovered by the caretakers this morning, it was after the gates had been opened, and a search made immediately for the guilty ones failed absolutely.

When the day staff came on duty to-day it was discovered that a large number of rare orchids had been uprooted and that they had been scattered in every direction. There were thirty panes of glass in the orchid house broken. At 1 o'clock this morning when the rounds were made there was no damage done, the militants having evidently laid their plans well in order to find hiding places where they could remain in security.

Window-smashing raids are continuing in London to-day, and the militants are not discriminating. Two immense panes of glass were broken by missiles thrown at an establishment in Oxford street. This establishment had been thought immune from attack as the proprietors had, apparently with a view of saving their glass, contributed largely to the suffragette campaign funds.

Telegraph wires in the provinces have been cut by the militants since last night, and as a result the post office authorities have this morning issued a general notice that all telegrams for the north of England will be delayed in consequence.

Are Taken

Chicago, Feb. 8.—Fred C. Viock, who for sixteen years has swallowed no food, is giving aid to science through observation of his digestive process, according to Prof. A. J. Carlson, assistant in the department of physiology at the University of Chicago.

By means of a glass tube through which an electric light is introduced into the man's stomach, Dr. Carlson has been able to observe and even photograph the food at every stage during the process of digestion, he said last night.

Since he was 11 years old Viock has taken through a tube leading from the abdomen into the stomach, the esophagus having been completely closed when he swallowed a strong solution. The man was found working at a trade here as a barber several months ago.

Although it was intended that only liquids should be taken through the tube, Viock developed an appetite for meats and vegetables, and after maintaining them successfully, introduced them into the stomach through the tube. Another point in his case is that the physician has been able to observe the stomach when absolutely empty, an opportunity almost impossible to find because of the mingling saliva with the juices of the stomach.

AMERICAN ARMY CAN LEARN FROM ALLIES

Sensational Reports From Battlefield Doubtful on Receipt of Dispatch

New York, Feb. 8.—Major Munroe McFarland, 29th U. S. Infantry, arrived in New York to-day after nearly three months of special duty at the scene of the war in the Near East. Although Major McFarland had ample credentials, the Bulgarian army did not recognize him to the extent of permitting him to go anywhere near the battle. He took a horseback trip from Belgrade down through Macedonia to Salonica. He visited Kumanova and Monastir and studied the organization tactics and methods of entrenchment used by the Serbian and Bulgarian armies.

The major thinks that the present fighting will not amount to much and that the war will soon be over. Although his position disqualified him from expressing an opinion as to who would be the victors, he said that his study had shown him that the American army can learn much from the work that has been done in actual warfare by the armies of the allies.

The cholera scare, he added, had been greatly exaggerated, perhaps by the Turks themselves, in order to frighten the allies from prosecuting their campaign to the environs of Constantinople.

London, Feb. 8.—Sensational reports that the Turks suffered a crushing defeat at the hands of the Bulgarian troops in the peninsula of Gallipoli and lost fifteen thousand killed and ten thousand prisoners, which were published in Berlin this morning, received no confirmation or support from any source to-day.

It is doubted here whether such a battle had been fought and such a victory won without Bulgarian headquarters hastening officially to notify the world.

HENRI BOURASSA ASSERTS THAT THREE MILLION DOLLARS FROM THE NAVY VOT. WILL GO TO CONSERVATIVE PARTY FUNDS

Nationalist Writes on Cupidity and the Execable Thirst for Gold

Montreal, Que., Feb. 7.—Under the heading "The True Emergency: Patriotism and Gold," Henri Bourassa writes in Le Devoir to-day as follows: "Party papers and the jingoist press assert that the naval contribution scheme has the unanimous support of the English population of Canada. Let us note this: The principal motive for which the ministry has refused a plebiscite is that the jingoist ministers were afraid they could not have the necessary support of the English provinces."

"No, it is not the patriotic ardor, neither the fear nor respect for public opinion, nor even the thirst for honors which drag the politicians into that way; it is simply cupidity, the execrable thirst for gold."

"A well-informed person assured me that part of the electoral fund of certain Tory politicians would be three million dollars taken out of the thirty-five millions intended 'to increase the naval forces of the Empire.' Evidently such a fat prebend would come from the shipbuilders, for it would certainly be an excellent investment for them."

"The capitalization of the six English ships and firearms companies to-day is $1,125,000,000. The benefit deriving from that capital depends entirely on the naval programmes of Great Britain's national competitors. This arouses the interest of the stockholders to provoke and maintain the war scare and urge on the construction of Dreadnoughts, the type of ship which pays the best."

"And what makes the character of the situation deplorably grotesque is the fact that the English manufacturers share with the German shipbuilders the benefit which results from that mad rivalry between the two nations."

"From England, where they find a too-great resistance from the working class and enlightened people, these cormorants emigrate to the colonies, where they buy newspapers and politicians, get decorations for the powerful and wealthy upstarts, create an 'artificial opinion' and impose upon parties super-Dreadnoughts and local squadrons."

"Then, crossing back to Germany, they benefit from the foolish policy of the English colonies in inducing the Germans to increase their navy. And again they will go back to England, create there a new panic, and will ask for more ships, always more powerful and expensive."

"And so forth, until the indignant people shall put an end to that gigantic speculation of human stupidity."

TARIFF ASKED ON IMPORTED LUMBER

CONVENTION SEEKS HELP OF DOMINION

Three Hundred Million Feet
Common Grades Dumped
on Prairies Last Year

WANT APPOINTMENTS TAKEN FROM POLITICS

Provincial Government to Be Asked to Stop Tying Chief Forester's Hands

Nelson, Feb. 8.—Three hundred million feet of American lumber of common grades was dumped on the prairie market last year, and as a result prices were kept back below the level which permits a fair profit for British Columbia lumbermen, according to figures discussed at the annual meeting here yesterday of the Mountain Lumber Manufacturers' Association, when a resolution was passed strongly urging the federal government to give the industry adequate protection by means of a tariff.

It was declared that lumber is the only industry of importance in Canada, which does not receive some form of protection. Need for protection was further urged by many speakers, lumbermen and business men at a banquet given by the association of the board of trade last evening.

Representations will be made to the provincial government asking for the introduction of an amendment to the forest act to provide for the enlargement of the forest board to include two lumbermen who would act purely as an advisory and not in any manner in an administrative capacity. It was generally conceded that the forest act was on the right lines, and the lumbermen expressed a strong desire to act in co-operation with the government in carrying out its terms and in making any such amendments which might be found desirable, while it is in what was described as a formative stage.

The lumbermen will also ask the provincial government to take the appointment of members of the forest protection services out of politics, to give the chief forester power to appoint his own men and to make him personally responsible for securing officials who would carry out the work in the most satisfactory manner. The provincial authorities will be urged not to make any increase direct or indirect in the royalty charged lumbermen.

Production of mountain mills last year was 420,000,000 feet, a decrease of 50,000,000 feet over that of 1911. Prospects for the present year were said to depend entirely upon conditions in the United States upon which was dependent the amount of lumber dumped upon the British Columbia manufacturers' market.

To W. A. Anstie, of Calgary, who resigned the secretaryship which he has held for seven years, to accept the managing directorship of the Forest Mills Limited, was done the signal honor by the association of being elected its president for the current year. It was pointed out by the lumbermen last night that the action of making the retiring secretary chief executive was probably without precedent, and that the action yesterday was the result of the association's appreciation of Mr. Anstie's good work during the past year, and its recognition of his outstanding ability for the chief office in its gift.

C. D. McNab, of Waldo, is vice-president, and the new directors are: F. W. Adolph, of Baynes; B. W. Sawyer, of Chase; H. H. Ross, of Waldo, and L. D. Rogers, of Golden. A. B. Frank, of Calgary, assistant secretary, will be acting secretary of the organization until a successor to Mr. Anstie is appointed.

As a recognition of his worth and the fair manner in which he has conducted his duties as timber inspector for the provincial government, a position from which he is retiring, A. Carney, of Kaslo, was presented by A. E. Watts, on behalf of the association, with a gold watch and chain and a purse filled with $20 gold pieces. Mr. Carney has held the position which he is now relinquishing for nine years.

THIRTEEN KILLED IN COLLIERY.

Mansfield, Eng., Feb. 6.—Thirteen men were killed and a number injured to-day at the Bolsover colliery by the snapping of a chain to which was suspended a bucket containing 800 gallons of water.

Toronto, Feb. 8.—The Parkdale Canoe Club was totally destroyed by fire this morning, the loss being $15,000. The Sunnyside orphanage also caught fire and the sisters marshalled the children and marched them to safety. Slight damage was done to the orphanage.

ZAPATA HAS EIGHT THOUSAND IN ARMY

TURBULENT DEBUTIES ON THE ARMY LIST

No Denial Given Statement That Prisoners Are Forced to Fight for Federals

Mexico City, Feb. 8.—That Emiliano Zapata has an army of more than 8,000 men well drilled and well provided with arms and ammunition, is a story that caused the capital to smile when it was brought here recently by Abraham Martinez, a semi-official envoy of the government to Zapata, but which before the end of the month had received far more serious consideration. If the story is true, it is believed here that it will alter materially the relations of the central government and that of the rebel whose name has spread panic through half of Mexico, and which has been adopted as a battle cry by thousands who perhaps have never seen him.

Since the day more than a year ago when Francisco I. Madero, not yet President, met Zapata at Cuautla and by inaugurating negotiations for peace frustrated the plans of the provisional government to suppress him and his band, the government has from time to time indulged in roundabout efforts to end its disagreements with him. Martinez has played a big part in these negotiations. Recently he brought to the government Zapata's terms for peace and, although they have not been made public, it is known that Zapata does not now insist upon the resignation of Madero, but that federal troops be retired from the state of Morelos, and that he be made the military commander of the Seventh Military Zone, whose headquarters is at Cuernavaca. He offers to furnish his own soldiers, guaranteeing the maintenance of peace.

Martinez declares that he is convinced of the truth of the statement that Zapata has an army of 8,000 men, in addition to those numerous bands which have been raiding the length and breadth of the states of Mexico, Guerrero, parts of Puebla, Oaxaca, and even those whose operations in the state of Morelos have gained for them the term "savages." Zapata's army, according to Martinez, is a region twenty by forty miles in an isolated part of the state of Morelos. There his men have been for months doing little besides drill and prepare for eventualities. The drilling and organization have been done, he says, under the general supervision of Gaudencio de la Llave, a colonel in the regular army who joined the rebellion.

General Joaquin Beltran, who conducted the campaign against General Felix Diaz in Vera Cruz and who later was made the military commander in that district, has been succeeded by General Velasco. General Beltran was ordered to report to Mexico City, where he was left subject to orders from the department of war.

Another change that has caused much speculation and considerable gossip was the relieving of Comodoro Azueta. Azueta was in command of the little fleet in Vera Cruz harbor, and Diaz depended upon him for support, but at the last he joined forces with Beltran to capture the rebellious general.

That the loyalty of the army as a whole is doubted is common talk, and recently the statement was made on the floor of the Lower House by a deputy, formerly an aide of the President, that high officers had been approached by those endeavoring to incite an army uprising. The statement provoked an acrid discussion in which the galleries took an informal though noisy part. One deputy, in eulogizing the army, referred to the recapture of Vera Cruz after its occupation by Felix Diaz, and immediately his voice was drowned by voices from the galleries, crying: "Yes, by treason! By using the white flag!" and several other expressions indicative of the popular conception of the means used to accomplish that end.

Always a turbulent lot, the Mexican deputies during the month of January have earned for themselves special distinction as debaters. At almost every session the debate on some measure has resulted in a series of charges and counter charges in which the members not infrequently called each other liars, and on numerous occasions the executive has been sharply criticized for his administration of affairs.

One incident that promised serious consequences was the unloading of the records that tell how the army list has been maintained. Incidental to the discussion of some bill a deputy charged that the army, during the campaign against Orozco, had been augmented by 2,000 prisoners taken from Belen, the big city prison, before the charges against them had been determined by the courts. The deputy, who was the attorney-general at that time, was called upon to corroborate this statement and did so, explaining that the President, in a cabinet meeting, had determined to commute the sentences of these men. This course was regarded as necessary since, notwithstanding the high pay offered soldiers, no men could be found to enlist. The incident resulted in a storm of protest and threats of impeachment of the President.

That prisoners are forced into the army every week, according to secret and never denied, but this was the first time congress had taken official cognizance of the fact.

Almost on a par with the statement of Deputy Luis Cabrera, that Mexico faced civil war for at least three years to come, were declarations made by a number of deputies recently as to the extent of the revolution now in progress. One deputy, speaking on the measure to authorize special elections in states where at the regular time they could not be held on account of the disturbed conditions, declared that the conditions now were worse, and that in Durango the rebels were in absolute control, almost to the gates of the state capital. He cited other places and conditions which he declared, were equally bad. His statements were supported.

ANSWER TO ASQUITH FROM UNIONIST LAW

Reiterates That His Party Stands for Preference Without Food Taxation

London, Feb. 8.—Replying to Premier Asquith's remarks of last week on the subject of Imperial preference, Mr. Bonar Law last night reiterated the fact that the Unionist party intended to give the Dominion preference on the existing duties without food taxes; in other words, what the dominions had already demanded at the Imperial conference. There was one point in the premier's speech which he wished particularly to refer to.

"He quoted part of the resolution passed by the Grain Growers' Association, but there was another paragraph which he did not quote, and which I shall read:

"Therefore, be it resolved that this convention, composed of delegates representing 10,000 farmers of Manitoba, places itself on record as firmly opposed to any expenditure of public money in the construction of naval armaments."

"Remember that this resolution which the premier praised and of which he spoke as if it represented the people of Canada, is a resolution which is hostile to the present government, and which is leveled directly against the very policy of contribution to our naval defence which has been suggested, and which will, I believe, be carried out by the Borden government. Remember also that that policy was undertaken by Premier Borden and his colleagues at great political risk, and after consultation and with the full approval of the British government.

"I ask: Is it fair to the Canadian ministry to quote with approval, and as if it represented the Canadian people, a resolution directly leveled at that ministry?"

COLLEGE MARRIAGES

Plea Made in Seattle Court to Undo Knot Tied by Student and Co-ed

Seattle, Feb. 8.—The suit for divorce filed in the Superior court this morning by Christian J. Sebastian against Laura A. Sebastian, for the first time, according to Victor M. Place, attorney for the plaintiff, reveals the story of a triple elopement from the Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill., to East Chicago, Ind., on the night of February 13, 1908. The Northwestern University is a strict Methodist institution and a stern veto is put upon all frivolities, the cards and dancing being absolutely and unequivocally barred. Yet it seems that Dan Cupid found his way past the stern disciplinary laws of the Wesleyan theory, and on the night of February 13, 1908, sought to mate six hearts at one swoop. He took three bright and promising male students and three of the prettiest "co-eds" on that night across the line from Illinois, and in an obscure Indiana town, which in truth is but a far east suburb of Chicago, married them. Attorney Place, who is a graduate of the Northwestern, declines to give the names of the other two or reveal even the maiden name of the wife of his client. He stands on the complaint as filed this morning.

The complaint says Sebastian and his wife were married in East Chicago, Ind., February 13, 1908, that no children were born of the union, and that the defendant refused to live with him. Mrs. Sebastian is said to be with her parents in Chicago.

NEW BILL FOR BETTERMENT OF PROVINCIAL LABOR CONDITIONS

Dr. Young and Parker Williams Exchanged Compliments Over the Subject of Cremation Yesterday—Both in Favor of Its Being Compulsory in the Province—Socialist's Objection Not Sustained

On Monday next John T. W. Place, member for Nanaimo, will make his first real step into the arena of party politics when he brings to the notice of the House a bill which he has prepared with the object of placing the eight-hour day for workman on a statutory basis. The measure has been most carefully prepared, is very simple and unambiguous in its wording.

The bill will be introduced the "Eight Hour Act" and is briefly as follows: "No person shall be employed in any industry where the hours of labor have not already been regulated by law for a longer period than eight hours in any twenty-four hours and six days in any one week."

"Twenty-four hours for the purpose of this act shall mean from midnight to midnight."

"Any owner, agent, or man or anyone acting on their behalf employing any workman or person in contravention of this act shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred dollars and not less than twenty dollars for each workman or person so employed and any workman or person so working for a longer period than is specified in this act shall be liable to a penalty not less than twenty dollars."

Yesterday's Legislature.

Parker Williams' proposed amendment to the Auditor-General's Act was the first thing brought to the notice of the House yesterday afternoon. This amendment was to the effect that the auditor-general be given the power of suspension and dismissal over his own staff, a contingency which is not provided for in the act as at present constituted.

In advancing the reasons for his amendment, Mr. Williams argued that it was anomalous that an official so high in power had not the right to discipline his staff, a privilege which was enjoyed by the auditor-general, for instance, at Ottawa and at other places where such an official was employed. He urged upon the attorney-general the salutary effects such power would have in keeping order and ensuring in this most important office good work being done. He urged the insertion of the amendment.

Premier McBride opposed any such suggestion. The civil service commission and full power over employees, and the amendment was uncalled for. The amendment went down to immediate defeat.

Cremation.

Hon. Dr. Young and Parker Williams later in the sitting exchanged ideas over the floor of the House on the subject of cremation; a matter which was brought up by the consideration of the provincial secretary's bill, introduced an act for the Regulation of the Burning of Human Remains and the Establishment of Crematoria.

Parker Williams' point was a good one. He said that in the ordinary way he thought it would be advisable if the cremation form of interment were made compulsory in the province, but since matters stood as they did, he expressed the opinion that the burning of human remains offered an excellent escape for criminals who would thus be able to dispose of bodies and have no fear of the evidence forthcoming from an exhumation. There were many cases, he said, on record in which persons had been buried, and then later suspicion turned as to the causes of the deaths. Whereupon exhumations were made and crimes brought to light through post mortem examination. He suggested that in every case where cremation was taken advantage of, a coroner's inquest should be held over the dead body previous to interment, and if examination betrayed the fact that death was due to natural causes all well and good; cremation could follow; if not then the law was called in to pursue the criminal and bring him to retribution.

Hon. Dr. Young averred that this was virtually provided for in section 10, which reads:

"10. Nothing in this act shall interfere with the jurisdiction of any coroner under the 'Coroners' Act,' and nothing in this act shall authorize any license under this act to create or permit a nuisance."

He added that in his opinion Mr. Williams' idea was not practicable that all bodies should have coroners' inquests held over them.

Exception could be made.

The member for Newcastle replied to the effect that exception could be made in those cases where the deceased had made known in writing some time previous to the time of his demise the fact that he wished his remains to be interred in this way. The suggestion was quashed.

During the discussion Hon. Dr. Young went on record as being in favor of compulsory cremation. As a medical man he recognized the desirability of the method, and went so far as to say that if the premier would allow him to do so he would bring down a bill for compulsory cremation. As it was the present bill before the House was to give the people of British Columbia an option as to the manner in which they would prefer to be buried.

Hon. W. R. Ross cut quite a leading figure in the House yesterday, bringing down no fewer than three new bills: The Act to Amend the Forest Act, the Act to Amend the Land Act and the Act Further to Amend the Coal and Petroleum Act.

An interesting portion of the New Forestry Act is that dealing with the marking of timber. One clause on this matter reads thus:

"To Distinguish Classes.

"88. No person shall float or raft any timber on the salt or fresh waters of the province unless each piece of such timber bears in a conspicuous place a mark registered in compliance with this part of this act."

And again:

"89. Every person who engages in the business of lumbering in any form or getting out timber and floating or rafting the same upon the waters aforesaid, or any of them, shall, before engaging in such business, obtain from the department in the manner provided by this part of this act one or more registered marks, as may be deemed necessary by the department, to clearly distinguish one from another the different classes of timber subject to different conditions of tenure, royalty, tax, or manufacture which such person or his agents may cut or may propose to cut, whether timber from Crown lands, leasehold tracts, or timber limits; and, having obtained such registered mark or marks, every such person shall put the proper mark so registered designating its class of timber in a conspicuous place on each log or piece of timber floated or rafted from the Crown-grant lands, leasehold tracts or timber limits in respect of which said registered mark has been obtained."

In the amended Land Act new regulations are to be enforced with regard to the granting of certificates of pre-emption records. The clause reads:

To Alter Stakes.

"19. Upon the compliance by the applicant with the provisions hereinbefore contained, and upon payment by him of the sum of two dollars to the commissioner, and provided there is no valid objection, the commissioner may record such land in his favor as a pre-emption claim, and give him a certificate of such pre-emption record, in the Form No. 2 in the schedule hereto; and such record shall be made by the commissioner in triplicate, the original to be handed to the pre-emptor, a duplicate to be retained by the commissioner for local reference, and the triplicate to be forwarded forthwith to the head office of the Department of Lands to be there examined, and if found in all respects in accordance with the provisions of this act (or, if necessary, after having been amended by the minister) to be finally entered in the land office register. The pre-emptor shall be notified of any alterations that are made in the description of his claim, and it shall be his duty to alter his stakes so as to agree with the amended description."

"Provided, however, that the minister shall have power to refuse any application for a pre-emption record the granting of which he does not consider to be in the public interest."

The Crown reserves to itself the right to hold the rights to any natural gas which may be discovered on or under such land and the Crown grants issued for such land shall contain an express reservation to the Crown of all natural gas found therein.

Special provision is found in the new act for pre-emptors. It says: "Every person pre-empting surveyed or unsurveyed Crown lands after the 31st day of March, 1912, shall, after the issuance of the certificate of improvement as provided in section 28 be entitled to a free grant of such land upon payment of a Crown grant of ten dollars."

Sir Richard's Proposed Resolution.

On Monday next the premier will bring before the House a resolution in reference to the Hay-Pauncefote treaty and the attitude of the British foreign secretary in upholding the rights of British and Canadian shipping. In full the wording of the resolution is as follows: "Whereas according to the provisions of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty of 1901, as expressed in rule 1, clause 3, it was agreed by the United States of America that the Panama canal should be open to the ships of all nations upon terms of perfect equality;

"And whereas by Act of Congress passed in August, 1912, vessels owned in the United States and engaged in the coastwise trade are to be exempt from all canal dues;

"And whereas such discrimination would obviously operate to the disadvantage of British vessels engaged in the carrying trade of the Pacific coast;

"And whereas in July, 1912, the British government entered a protest against the preferences granted by said Act of Congress to American vessels, and again in November renewed the protest, and requested, failing other means of settlement, that the question should be referred for arbitration to The Hague Tribunal in accordance with the provisions of a treaty with the United States in 1908;

"Therefore, be it resolved, that the legislature views with great satisfaction the attitude assumed by His Majesty's secretary for foreign affairs in upholding the rights of British and Canadian shipping in the use of the Panama canal, and expresses the sincere hope that the negotiations which have been undertaken may speedily result in a just and amicable settlement being reached."

Vancouver Bill.

C. E. Tisdall, third member for Vancouver, proposed the second reading of the bill to amend the Vancouver Incorporation of 1900. In eloquent vein he showed how conditions in the Terminal City were constantly changing and the population constantly growing. These new conditions had to be met by new legislation and it was for this reason that almost every year amendments to the Vancouver Incorporation were being brought down to the House. The citizens of Vancouver, he said, were well satisfied with the way in which the city was governed and the new act was simply to make good a few discrepancies which changing conditions had revealed. The bill passed second reading and will be considered in committee on

COAL COMMISSION.

A commissioner has been appointed to investigate the coal question in British Columbia. He is W. E. Burns, a Vancouver barrister, and is empowered to conduct a full inquiry into the production, cost, transportation and distribution of coal in the province.

The commissioner will have an interesting problem to solve. He will learn why with producing coal mines so near at hand the people of the coast cities can get either no coal at all or must pay exorbitant prices for it. He has the opportunity of a lifetime of presenting a report that everybody will read. He also has an opportunity to educate himself in the intricate problems of high finance, with which is allied the interesting chemical process of diluting coal with water to the enrichment of the operator. The morning paper informs us that the appointment of the commissioner is in compliance with the requests of "Dr. McGuire, Mr. Matson and other private members" of the legislature. "We frankly confess that we were unaware that Mr. Matson was a private member of the assembly." Of course, it is humanly impossible to keep in mind the whole complement of government supporters, but this name was to us a new name in the roster. Now, mind you, we are not saying that he is not a private member. We only suggest that he has been so privately a member that he has escaped our attention. We would also point out that the assembly with which Mr. Matson is connected must have been holding subterranean sessions. All of which goes to show how little the public knows of its lawmakers after all.

TAXING THE BRITON.

Towards the melancholy close of his dazzling career Napoleon used to console himself with the memory of the gigantic sum Great Britain had to raise to bring about his downfall. "You English," he remarked once, "have imposed a contribution upon France of 700,000,000 francs ($140,000,000), but after all, I imposed one of ten milliards ($20,000,000,000) on your country. While you raised yours by your bayonets, I raised mine through your parliament."

At the Liberal meeting last night both Ralph Smith and Duncan Ross showed that under Mr. Borden's naval proposals Canada was asked to engage in an application of the idea that gave Napoleon so much satisfaction. We are to vote, thirty-five million dollars for three Dreadnoughts to be presented to the Admiralty, and the British taxpayers are to defray the cost of their maintenance and also to man them. We borrow the money from Great Britain at four per cent. Our annual charge for construction will be about a million and a half. The annual charge for maintenance, manning, etc., to be borne by the Old Country taxpayers, will be three or four times that amount.

We are told that this is the proper thing to do. By implication Mr. Borden says the Australian policy is all wrong. Let us suppose Australia abandoned her present policy of a local navy and adopted the one proposed by Mr. Borden. She also would send three Dreadnoughts to England, to be manned by the British taxpayer. New Zealand would send one, the Malay States one, South Africa two and India three. The cost of maintaining these ships would probably exceed fifteen million dollars per annum, without considering at all the most important requirement—the manning of them. We should be killing the Borden with kindness. And yet our Tory friends declare that this should be the policy of the overseas dominions.

And in connection with the foregoing it should be remembered that the ships to be given by Canada are to be in addition to the Admiralty programme, considered sufficient to maintain an adequate margin of safety over Germany. In other words, if the ships were not given at all the Admiralty programme is sufficient to cover Great Britain's naval necessities. If the principle of contributing to naval defence advocated by Mr. Borden were generally adopted, the load of the "weary Titan" would be indeed much heavier than it is now.

NEW SOURCE OF CAPITAL.

The city of Vancouver has recently disposed of more than one million dollars' worth of bonds to a New York house. The stipulation was made that the issue would not be placed in London, and the flotation therefore will be absorbed by United States investors. Although the issue was not a large one, it may be the means of attracting the attention of the great financial interests of New York to the opportunities of investment in this province. London is the great market for Canadian municipal bonds, but the avalanche of Canadian issues on that generous market has taxed it to the utmost, the situation being complicated by the Balkan war and the demands from other countries.

The development of the New York market for our municipal issues inevitably would create an interest in this field generally on the part of New York capitalists. In the great Atlantic metropolises of late there has grown up a tendency to devote attention more to steady investments than to those speculative movements so sensitive to the operations of stock manipulators. The stock exchange seems to be losing its attractions as a wealth-producing institution. Seats may be obtained there nowadays for $45,000, or less than half the price quoted three or four years ago. The gambling spirit is becoming less intense, and there seems to be a wider sentiment in favor of safe investments and conservative profits in preference to the "twenty-one or bust" idea which so long has permeated the financial and speculative life of the big city. We firmly believe that within a very short time we shall see a great quantity of New York capital invested in this province. The field has been scarcely more than scratched so far. As population increases and the province is opened up there will be an industrial awakening the nature of which cannot be over-estimated.

AN IRATE FARMER.

Hon. W. T. White, in a moment of irritation, told the members of the House of Commons a few days ago that reciprocity was dead and buried. Perhaps the Minister of Finance thinks it is; but the farmers' organizations all over the country, saving those dominated by that exceedingly enterprising agriculturist, Hon. Price Ellison, seem to think differently, judging from the resolutions they pass and the things they say whenever an opportunity arises. In point of fact, the farmers seem to think they have been "buncoed," to use an inelegant expression borrowed from the United States—and the more they think of the deception practised upon them by the protected "loyalists" of Montreal and Toronto the more irritated they become. We shall print a dainty epistle from a farmer to a befogged editor in New Brunswick as giving an indication of the feeling that is beginning to manifest itself on the subject of reciprocity. This is it:

"By posing as an independent journal you got into very many homes. Then you came out 'flat-foot' against free trade relations with the United States. Even after it was defeated you added insult to injury by congratulating members of the new ministry. 'By the non-acceptance of that agreement I lost one hundred and twenty dollars in duty deducted on thirty tons of hay shipped to Virginia. 'Had it not been for this loss I could have paid for your paper one hundred and twenty years in advance, and had something to show for my money. As one who helped to make this state of affairs, you compel me to practise the strictest economy. I can't afford to take your paper any longer. As some compensation for the harm you have done the farmer in this province gives for the rest of this agreement with the United States—our natural market—I ask you as one Canadian whom you have helped to injure, to print in consecutive instalments the History of Canada—Dr. Archer's, or any other impartial edition; then the people will see which party deserves their gratitude and respect. 'The United States have imported millions of barrels of potatoes this year, and hay is now going to Boston by schooner at thirty dollars a ton.'"

DOMINION BANK.

According to the annual statement of the Dominion Bank of Canada, that well-known institution has been doing business for forty-two years and its latest report shows the last year of its career to have been the most prosperous of all. Its net profits were a trifle over nine hundred thousand dollars, a gain of two hundred thousand dollars compared with the previous year. The bank had a total of $1,698,000 available for distribution, made up of $500,000 carried forward from 1911, net profits of $901,000 and a premium on new stock of $297,000. Regular dividends at the rate of 12 per cent. absorbed $238,000 and a bonus of 2 per cent. $100,000. The officers' pension fund took $25,000 and the reserve fund $297,000, leaving $688,000 to be carried forward. The cash and quickly available assets are shown as being 42.58 per cent. of the total liabilities to the public. During the year the bank increased its paid-up capital, which now stands at $5,000,000, its reserve fund being $4,000,000. It also made the large gain of $9,000,000 in total assets, which now stand at over $79,000,000. Its circulation increased by $600,000 and its deposits, which now total nearly $60,000,000, show an increase of $5,800,000. It is to be specially commented upon that the Dominion Bank's growing business has necessitated the issue of $1,000,000 new capital stock, and as this will be placed at $200 a share the increased facilities for the bank will be $2,000,000.

Further than this the growing importance of the West has made plain the call for additional representatives as members of the board of directors, and two new ones have in consequence been appointed—one a resident in Winnipeg and one in Vancouver. The Ottawa Citizen announces that negotiations for a new trade agreement between Canada and Japan are now in progress. The idea is to come to another arrangement by which Canada can export more goods to Nippon, the balance of trade being largely against us. Mr. Foster is said to be contemplating a visit to Tokio before returning from his trans-Pacific expedition. What is the matter with an agreement with the United States? There are ninety million people there who will buy millions of dollars' worth of our products.

The Marquis of Hertford, formerly Earl of Yarmouth, is in the bankruptcy court. The Marquis was married to Harry Thaw's sister, who had the marriage annulled after the harrowing disclosures of her brother's trial. That left the marquis without any visible means of support, and he had recourse to the amiable money lenders. From the stigma of the Thaw notoriety to the bankruptcy court is like jumping from the frying pan into the fire.

Bonar Law's latest fiscal proposal is a daisy. He would give a preference to the manufactured products of the dominions, but not to food. Canada does not export manufactured goods to any extent. Most of her imports are the manufactures of Great Britain and the United States. How would it do for Canada to give a preference to British wheat as a saw-off?

A rare avis has just struck town. He is a Saskatchewan Conservative. He predicts that when redistribution is carried out his party will win eight seats in the prairie province. Why, then, is the government he supports afraid to bring down a redistribution measure? He himself was defeated in the last election. He is a good example of the old adage: "The more you know, the more you know." Enough said.

The president of the Ontario Fruit Growers' Association says that twenty-five per cent. of the apples grown in Western Ontario this year will go to waste, and yet the consumers must pay high prices for fruit. The farmer receives small prices, and the consumer pays through the nose. Query: who gets the profit?

A very good snuff can be made from the snowdrop. The petals of the flower have only to be dried and crushed in the form of powder.

SNAPSHOTS OF THE CITY

Curious how fine feathers improve a pretty woman.

A rather pretty woman at the Empress hotel last evening garbed in a mysterious creation—which mere man cannot describe; but which only dazzled the more—was quite regal. Clad in walking costume—she glanced at her and her gaze wandered on—though if you have a predilection for prettiness your glance would be a long and level one. Dressed for dinner, the metamorphosis was a revelation in scarlet silk, filaments of lace and fur. Her woman's soul enjoyed the sensation she created.

She said: "What do you do on the paper?"
He said: "Just general news."
She said: "What does that mean?"
He said: "Reporting."
She said: "Oh! you're just a reporter."

He (meekly): "Yes."
She (haughtily): "Oh, I thought you were an editor!"
And she turned scornfully back to her switchboard. It was in a hotel on Douglas street.

She passed up the corridors of the Parliament buildings again to-day, a symphony in brown. Brown eyes, brown clothes, and old-gold hair holding a subtle, lambent flame. And he wasn't there to see her pass; and to blush. To blush in unsuspected admiration. He should return to Vancouver.

A cartoonist in the window of Morris' store on Government street caused a blockade of the sidewalk. There were at least one hundred people there all afternoon and pedestrians had to take to the streets to pass by. A young man, with a steady gaze, and a homely blonde took advantage of the press to do a little flirting. Execrable taste. Everyone saw them.

INVITE MEN TO ATTEND

Woman's Auxiliary, S. P. C. A., Will Hold Annual Meeting on March 4.

At the committee meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, at the Alexandra Club, various reports of the society's work were given in, and it was decided to hold the annual meeting on Friday, March 14, at 2.30 p. m., at the Alexandra Club. A large attendance of members and friends is anticipated. It was agreed to invite the members of the men's committee to be present, and to endeavor to procure speakers for the occasion. The question of the spring horse show was taken up. It is hoped that the society can again be in evidence on this occasion.

Officers and committees for election at the annual meeting were nominated.

Memorial Chapel Services.—To-morrow morning at 10.30 services will be conducted in the Memorial chapel at the Royal Jubilee hospital, consisting of prayer, praise, and a short address. Nurses, patients, and members of the hospital staff are expected to be present. The services will be in charge of the Anglican church.

The Only Instrument of This Type Made

The Columbia Grafonola "Regent" expresses one of the highest standards in the art of making instruments of this character. It combines utility and entertainment in a manner that has never been surpassed.

The Columbia "Regent" is a Copyrighted Design

For those who demand the best the world produces, this instrument stands alone. Not only is it a handsome piece of furniture, worthy of a place in the most carefully planned drawing or music room. It is a complete musical instrument of unexampled versatility and matchless tonal qualities—ready at any and all times, equally, for ordinary service or musical entertainment.

The musical and mechanical equipment of the Grafonola "Regent," being entirely concealed, the instrument presents as its table surface an unbroken expanse of clear mahogany, oak or Circassian walnut. The top measures 29x46 ins. To insert a record, a smoothly sliding drawer at the end is opened, bringing the turn-table, tone-arm, reproducer and needle trays into convenient access. Control of tone-volume is secured by turning a small knob, which opens or closes the tone-control shutters. At both ends of the table, and forming an integral part of the complete instrument, are the record compartments holding an extensive repertoire of both 10-inch and 12-inch records, double-discs. The motor-mechanism is exceptionally powerful and absolutely silent.

When you buy Records, ask for Columbia Double-Disc Records, the world's best, and be sure that this trademark (note cut) appears on them.

Shipping News from Day to Day

AFTER LONG ABSENCE WELLINGTON RETURNS

Collier Comes Into Port for Annual Survey—Carries Coal From Nanaimo to Frisco

Paying her first visit to Victoria since she entered the coal carrying business between Nanaimo and San Francisco about 18 months ago, the well-known steamer Wellington, Capt. William McCarthy, came into port this morning. She berthed at the Victoria Machinery Depot to undergo her annual inspection. It is expected that she will remain in port for about two or three days, and as soon as the inspection is completed she will proceed to the Coal City to load.

The Wellington is operated by the Canadian Colliers, Limited, and has made many trips to San Francisco with coal from the Island mine. The collier was laid up at Esquimalt and it was not until after the purchase of the Nanaimo mines by the Canadian Colliers that she was started on a permanent run. The Wellington has carried about 25,000 tons of coal to the Golden Gate in about the past six months.

Carries Three Masters.

Although only a collier the Wellington carries three masters and has attracted wide notice along the coast as a result. Capt. W. Porter, who has commanded many trans-Pacific boats, is chief officer, and Capt. Harry Gaudin, second officer, is also an experienced navigator. The fact that she carried three such capable mariners no doubt saved her from suffering great damage, if not from becoming a total wreck, when she was on a voyage from Nanaimo to Frisco. She was 114 hours making the run, which usually took her but three days. The Wellington was like a submarine, her deck being continually submerged in the green seas with only her masts and upperworks protruding.

Thor Passed Out To-day.

This morning the collier Thor passed out from Nanaimo for San Francisco with her first cargo of coal on her five-year contract. The Thor is operating under charter to the Western Fuel Company.

DANISH COMPANY TO SEND FLEET VIA PANAMA CANAL

Olaf Jarnier, a representative of the East Asiatic Company, Limited, Copenhagen, has left for San Francisco, after having spent about a week at Portland studying business possibilities on this coast based on shipping through the Panama canal.

Mr. Jarnier stated that his company, which for some time has run steamers from Europe to the Pacific coast via the Straits of Magellan, is likely to inaugurate a regular, probably monthly service, through the Panama canal as soon as that waterway becomes open.

TUG JAMMED AND NEARLY SUNK

Aberdeen, Wash., Feb. 8.—The tug Imogene was so badly jammed by the steamer Fair Oaks on Thursday that it required a vessel lying alongside all of the time and pumping to keep her afloat. The collision occurred when the Fair Oaks was proceeding up the Wishkah river to her berth at the Slade dock.

A stiff wind blowing northwest carried the Fair Oaks across the stream and against the little Imogene, lying alongside the Burrows dock, on the river side. The Imogene came within an ace of crumpling up like an egg-shell.

FISHERMEN EARN 80 CENTS A WEEK.

Seattle, Feb. 8.—With fifty pounds of halibut, the result of over a week's hard work on the banks off the west coast of Vancouver Island, the fishing steamer Fred Oldsted, reached Seattle at an early hour yesterday morning. The vessel's crew of 24 strikebreakers had 50 cents coming for their maiden efforts on the banks, but they admitted that they had obtained some valuable experience and had learned that the fishing trade cannot be learned in a day.

The inexperienced fishermen, who were recruited from the employment agencies of Seattle, were helpless in the dories and narrowly escaped being blown to sea. Captain Oldsted had great difficulty in keeping track of his men, and when he had picked them all up after drifting about for two days he headed for Seattle at full speed.

FEW SHIPS HEADING IN THIS DIRECTION

THREE DUE HERE NEXT WEEK FROM FAR EAST

Panama Maru Delayed by Storm, Will Be in Some Time To-morrow

Another rather quiet week is to be experienced in Victoria's shipping. A search of schedules shows that only three deep-sea vessels are due to dock at the outer docks and one liner will sail. Two Japanese steamships, the Panama Maru, of the Osaka line, and the Sado Maru, of the Nippon fleet, are all expected in from foreign ports. The Awa Maru, another of the Nippon vessels, will be the only outgoing ship.

As a result the Japanese flag will be much in evidence at the outer docks next week. Three liners flying the Rising Sun banner will berth at this port, which is the largest number ever to come here in one week.

There is some doubt here as to whether it will be late in the afternoon before she docks. The Japanese liner did not report by wireless last night, and according to her position the previous evening she should be in about noon. However, the continuous bad weather off the coast may be still further delaying her. The Panama was one day late leaving Yokohama, but during the trans-Pacific passage she has lost two more.

Sado in Before Antiochus.

The Nippon liner Sado Maru should be in port on Thursday morning, providing she does not experience similar weather to that of the Panama. She will come in one day ahead of the Antiochus, of the Holt fleet, which left Yokohama three days after her. The Sado is bringing in a small cargo to Victoria. It amounts to less than 400 tons. She has about 55 Oriental passengers for this port.

The Antiochus is due in on Friday morning from Liverpool, via Fiji, Eastern ports. She has a large cargo for Victoria, and will return here the following week from Tacoma to discharge it. The Antiochus has many Orientals for Victoria and South ports.

On Tuesday afternoon the Awa Maru will sail for the Orient and is now at Seattle completing her cargo, which will amount to 7,000 tons. All her saloon accommodation will be taken and she will also have a number of steerage passengers.

The Harrison liner Centurion, which arrived here yesterday from the United Kingdom to discharge 400 tons of cargo, left at noon to-day for Vancouver.

Almost any substance that may be pounded into pulp will serve as a constituent of paper. In addition to about fifty kinds of bark, pea and bean stalks, banana peel, coconut fibre, straw, sea and fresh water weeds, and various kinds of grass are equally useful.

UNIQUE SMUGGLING CASE ON CYCLOPS

Vancouver Police Take in Four Men—Cargo Was Broached

Vancouver, Feb. 8.—Four members of the crew of the Blue Funnel liner Cyclops, the victims of one of the latest police traps that has been laid by the Vancouver force for a long time, appeared in police court yesterday morning on a charge of smuggling.

It is alleged that they attempted to smuggle perfume into Canada, but the case was adjourned yesterday and there is a probability that they will be arraigned on a more serious charge of broaching the cargo of the liner.

Thefts of perfume from the ship were reported as soon as the Cyclops docked a few days ago, and Sergeant McLeod was instructed to lay plans for the capture of the responsible parties. A member of the detective force was sent down to the vessel and made himself a friend with the crew. He met four men and after some conversation with them agreed to help them dispose of some perfume in their possession.

At first it was planned to meet in a drug store, but the sailors declared that to be too dangerous, and so the man acting for the police agreed to meet them at 8 o'clock Thursday night in a lane between Cordova street and Hastings street, just off Columbia avenue.

Date Well Kept.

The detective appeared on the scene first, armed with a large suitcase in which to carry off the booty. Behind a fence a few feet away Inspector McRae and Inspector Jackson watched everything that took place. At one end of the lane two more detectives were stationed and on Columbia avenue a couple of more detectives wandered aimlessly about. The place was alive with plain clothes men.

Arthur Williams, Thomas Carron, Fred Byers and Robert Hawthorne, the four members of the crew, came down Columbia avenue with their overcoats lined with perfume and high hopes of much money in their hearts. They met their friend with the suitcase promptly at the prescribed hour and proceeded to haggle over the sale. Inspector McRae and Inspector Jackson listened behind a board fence not three feet away.

The price was finally agreed upon and the odorous transaction was just about to take place when the men were surrounded by detectives from all sides.

Disabled Freighter Being
Towed North for Repairs

Seattle, Feb. 7.—In tow of the tug Seward, of San Francisco, the disabled freighter Seward, of the Alaska Steamship Company, Capt. Johnson, on Wednesday began her voyage from Mazatlan, Mexico, for San Diego, where she will be dry-docked for repairs. The Seward reached Mazatlan on Monday. She is expected at San Diego with her tow on February 15.

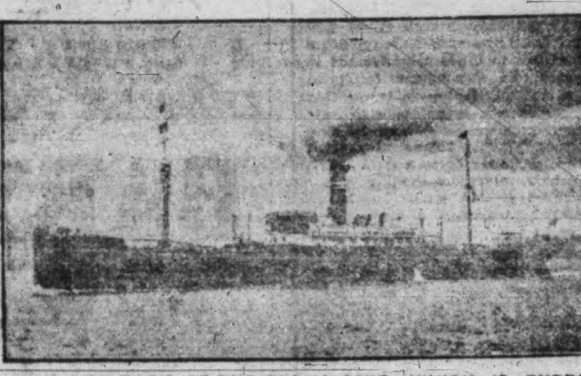

The Seward, which is under charter to the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, but is at Mazatlan in distress, January 11, having lost her rudder in heavy weather while 150 miles south of Cape St. Lucas. It was at first believed that it would be necessary to tow the vessel to Salina Cruz, more than 800 miles south of Mazatlan, but officials of the Alaska Steamship Company were informed that there were many railway facilities at San Diego of sufficient size to receive the big freighter, and she is now being towed to that port.

Salvor Lost a Fireman.

While the steamer Salvor was at Van Anda attempting to raise the steamer Chesapeake one of her firemen named Lewis fell overboard and was drowned. The accident happened just a few days before the salvage vessel started on her return voyage to Victoria. Lewis was boarding the ship, when he fell over the gunwale into the water. He was hauled out immediately by the crew, and despite the fact that a doctor worked on him for over three hours he failed to survive. It is believed that he died from asphyxiation, and did not expire as the result of drowning.

"DEMON CARGO" CASE COMES UP ONCE MORE

New Facts Are Revealed—Exploding Sodium Breaks Amidships

London, Feb. 8.—The story of the "demon cargo" of the steamship Hardy was written into the records of the King's bench yesterday through the testimony of her captain. On a voyage from Trompet, with a large cargo of mineral waters, consigned to a London firm, water reached a quantity of metallic sodium, which was also a part of the cargo, setting it afire. The captain not being aware of the nature of the sodium, played the hose on it with the result that two tons of it were set afire, and there was a series of explosions.

Non-plussed, the captain ordered all the cases of sodium heaved into the sea. When this was done the exploding sodium in contact with the water caused several of the cases to jump back again aboard the ship, and the back again caught fire. There was another explosion in the cargo which caused the vessel to break amidships and sink. The mate was drowned, but the captain and crew were saved.

The story came out in an action for damages against the steamship company for the loss of the mineral water. The court awarded the plaintiff $5,000 damages with costs, and remarked to the captain that he seemed to have to deal with the sailors when the water got in.

SAILS WOULD ASSIST BIG STEAMERS IN BAD WEATHER

It is not often that modern steamers are equipped with sails—in fact, they are hardly deemed necessary at all nowadays except to carry lights, flags and derricks for working cargo—but there can be no doubt that if the old order of things was taken to again many of these mysterious foundering in heavy weather might never occur, as with a certain amount of canvas on her a steamer can always be hoisted to.

LOCAL ENGINEER IS MADE AN INSPECTOR

Bert Mantrop Will Join Department for Inspecting Boilers and Machinery

To fill the vacancy in the boiler inspector's office, caused through the death of J. A. Thompson, Bert Mantrop, a well known engineer of Victoria, has been appointed by the Dominion government. The order in council was put through on January 25, and a telegram was received here this morning announcing that Mr. Mantrop had been selected to fill this important position in connection with British Columbia shipping.

Up till the time of his death Mr. Thompson was at the head of the boiler and machinery inspector's office. Wm. J. Cullum, who was under Mr. Thompson, it is understood will take the head position and Mr. Mantrop will be junior. Mr. Mantrop is widely known in Victoria, and is reputed to be a capable engineer. He has had extensive experience as a marine engineer, and should be a fine addition to the boiler inspector's office.

This is the second appointment concerning Victoria's shipping which has been made by the Dominion government within the past few weeks. Only recently Frederick F. Pickard was created inspector of hulls and equipment of steamboats in place of John C. Kinghorn.

TRAWLER JAS. CARRUTHERS WENT DIRECT TO VANCOUVER

The trawler Jas. Carruthers, Capt. McGee, passed here this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock on her way from Grimsby, Ont., to Vancouver. She did not call here, though at first expected to. The Carruthers made a slow run from San Francisco, being out four days, and as a result, took 96 days to make the run from the English fishing port, one day longer than her sister ship, the Andrew Kelly, and the Geo. E. Foster.

Only the elder members of the association will be present at the reception on Wednesday night, as a separate evening will be arranged for a reception by the boys.

INDUCTION OF NEW PASTOR TAKES PLACE

REV. JOHN G. INKSTER IS WELCOMED AS MINISTER

Interesting Ceremony at First Presbyterian — Rev. R. A. Macconnell, Moderator

Last evening Rev. John Gibson Inkster, the new pastor of the First Presbyterian church, was formally inducted to his new charge, a large congregation of Presbyterians crowding the church to its capacity. Prior to the actual induction services the Victoria Presbytery met for the purpose of appointing a new moderator in the place of Rev. J. H. Robertson, who was recently transferred to South Vancouver. Rev. R. A. Macconnell, of St. Columba church, Oak Bay, who presided at the meeting, was appointed to the office. Rev. W. L. Clay acting as clerk at the proceedings in the absence of Rev. Dr. MacRae.

The actual induction service commenced at 8 o'clock. Rev. R. A. Macconnell, B. C., preaching a sermon from the text: "He brought me forth also into a large place; He delivered me because He delighted in me." At the conclusion of his sermon, during which the speaker pointed out the necessity of giving one's life to Christ and service, and the need of consecrating all one's talents and services to Jesus Christ, the moderator called upon Rev. Joseph McCoy, interim-moderator of the church, to recite the steps which had led to the call which had been given to Rev. Mr. Inkster, of London, Ont. At the close of this Rev. Mr. Macconnell, as moderator of the Victoria Presbytery, addressed the usual formula of questions to Rev. Mr. Inkster, and, after satisfactory replies had been received, offered up prayer.

In welcoming the new pastor, and wishing him long years of happy work, Rev. Mr. Macconnell pointed out how in Victoria Mr. Inkster would face both the new East from which he had come and the old East of the Orient, and that in these elements he would find qualities which would make a demand on his best thought and energies. Pointing to the needs of his congregation, the moderator said that the home must be the first place in the thought of the pastor; after that the community life as seen through the members of his congregation and in the people round him should be considered; then the provincial, the Dominion and the world-wide work would follow.

Rev. Joseph McCoy, in addressing the people, pointed out that the congregation had made substantial promises to its new pastor, and it should see that these were fulfilled. There would be social claims which both pastor and congregation should fulfill, also, but the social claims should never stand between a pastor and the humblest and most exalted of his people. As a minister of the Presbyterian church the congregation might expect a pastor who, while praying with them and for them, would not be in any sense a priest to act as their intercessor with God.

Continuing, Mr. McCoy referred to the expectations of the congregation and the service which the people owed their pastor in the church. The congregation would demand eloquence and a scholarly preparation of his sermon, but on the other hand they must give their pastor time for meditation, and should attend regularly at the church. They should come with expectation of good, and with a loyal feeling of sympathetic interest.

Presented With Gown.
Finally the speaker called attention to an item not mentioned in this bond. This was that the members were anxious that the minister should come before them clothed in the Geneva gown, at this juncture James Foreman, of the board of managers, presenting the new pastor, on behalf of the congregation, with the black silk gown worn by Presbyterian ministers.

W. Walker, treasurer of the church, also presented a cheque to Rev. Mr. Inkster, and, just before the closing hymn, handed Rev. Mr. McCoy a gift of the same kind as a token of the gratitude felt by the congregation for the manner in which he had conducted the services since last July when Rev. Dr. Campbell resigned. The interim-moderator was quite evidently surprised at the presentation, and said that any services he had rendered had been given purely with the view of having the Presbyterian habit of orderliness maintained. The approval of the audience was further testified by the applause which followed the presentation.

The new pastor was formally welcomed into the Victoria Presbytery by the members of the Victoria Presbytery present, these being Rev. Dr. Campbell, who was the first to shake hands with Mr. Inkster; Rev. R. A. Macconnell, Rev. Joseph McCoy, Rev. Mr. Lundie, Rev. Dr. MacRae and Rev. Knox Wright, of Vancouver, following in their greetings. At the conclusion of the service the new pastor was also welcomed by a number of the members of the church, this and a short meeting of the Presbytery concluding the service.

CARNIVAL CAMPAIGN BEGINS ON MONDAY

Collectors All to Be Furnished With Identification Letters and Cards

On Monday the campaign to raise $50,000 for Carnival Week will be commenced in the city. Twenty-six special committees were formed at the meeting of the Victoria citizens' committee yesterday afternoon, each committee being composed of men familiar with those engaged in the various businesses and professions.

Cheques, as far as possible, must be in the form in which subscriptions will be given, and these must be made payable to the Victoria Citizens' Committee and not to anyone else. Every collector will have a letter signed by Randolph Stuart and Alderman Culbert, with his authorization as collector on it, and in addition each collector will be furnished with a countersigned identification card. To none but those producing such identification should subscriptions be given.

Colonel Hobday and R. V. Hinck are the committee on music for the carnival week, but it appears doubtful that unless the theatre may be had for use during the week at a reasonable cost the theatrical performance suggested will take place. The lease of the theatre expires in a short time and the new theatre will not be completed in time for carnival week; so it is a matter of courtesy if Mr. Spencer consents to reopen the Victoria theatre during the week.

Following are the committees in charge of the campaign on Monday: Retailers, architects, garden fraternity, hotels, etc., government officials, medical profession, trades and labor, real estate, wholesalers, legal fraternity, transportation companies and banks, theatres and moving picture houses, clubs athletic, political and social clubs, friendly societies, manufacturers, Chinese, motor garages, barbers, billiard and poolrooms, dress-makers and milliners, dry cleaners and laundries, engineers and surveyors, express and draymen, fraternal and secret societies roving committees.

DEPARTMENT IS BUSY WITH OTHER FIRES

Outbreak at Residence of A. C. Flumerfelt Checked—Ran to Yates Street

An outbreak of fire at the residence of A. C. Flumerfelt, 355 Pemberton road, might have assumed serious proportions this morning, but for the prompt arrival of the fire department at the residence shortly after 10 o'clock.

The sparks from a chimney had fallen and ignited a portion of the roof, an attic being on fire when the companies from Nos. 2, 4 and 8 halls, and a portion of the apparatus from No. 1, attended. The outbreak was extinguished with chemicals and water damage to the extent of about $500 being done. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

Last evening a chimney fire occurred at 1166 Yates street, owned by T. Pimley, and occupied by J. P. Grogan, sparks from a chimney having ignited the roof. The loss was trifling.

Mr. and Mrs. Costantine Agerhols have removed from 544 Simcoe street to 556 Simcoe street.

Rev. Dr. Cameron and Mrs. Cameron have taken up their residence permanently at the Strathcona hotel.

UNDER BLUE SKIES OF SUNNY ITALY

VICTORIAN RETURNS FROM EUROPEAN VISIT

Impressions of the Italian—A Street Car Story With a Moral for Victoria

Returning this week from a combined business and pleasure trip W. M. Duncan, a well-known business man of this city, has much of interest to say about Europe to-day.

Much of his time was spent in Italy. He regrets that from a business standpoint he finds the British manufacturer being outdistanced by the German firm. The former continue to sell articles at British quotations and the travellers speak English, while the Germans are putting up a similar class of material at a lower rate, or an equivalent price, and their travellers speak the language of the country, and they quote prices in the national coinage. The customs duty is the same, so that the methods of German importers can be well tested in a country like Italy, where the salesman meets on common ground. Mr. Duncan has formed a high estimate of the average intelligence and business acumen of the Italian in the transactions of commercial enterprise, and says the idea of the man who loafs in the sun, and plays cards, settling quarrels with a stiletto has been somewhat overdone.

A City of the Past.

Of all the cities which he visited, Pompeii has left the most impressive memories. He says it is a mistake to suppose that the buildings were covered in by lava. They were rather engulfed in ashes and pumice. Had lava covered up the buildings they would not have remained preserved until the present day. He saw five of the bodies which have been recovered from the ruins of this wonderful city, and the splendid collection in the Naples museum. One phase of the high state of civilization which the Pompeians had reached was shown in the stepping stones in the streets from sidewalk to sidewalk. There could be noted in the time-worn streets, which have been saved for the education of posterity by one of the great catastrophes of history, the marks of the chariot wheels as they eddied the stepping stones referred to above. In spite of the warnings which Vesuvius has given at various times, the people continue to build houses on the slopes of the mountain and plant vineyards.

The Majesty of St. Peter's.

The archaeological treasures of Rome, the picture galleries of Florence, and the silent waterways of Venice impressed the visitor. In Rome he was ordered amid the vastness of St. Peter's and wondered to see doves of the size of turkeys, till he realized at length that everything else was on the same gigantic scale. In Venice the absence of streets gave to the atmosphere at times the impression of a buried city, although Mr. Duncan mentioned it could be lively at times with the chattering of salesmen vying their wares. Another city which interested him was Milan, the manufacturing centre of Italy. The Riverina was visited, and he says it is an interesting study to witness the characteristics of the different nationalities at Monte Carlo.

Mr. Duncan toured in Switzerland, staying with friends at Zurich, and was surprised to find what a busy manufacturing town it is with factories of every kind, but more particularly those of the silk industry. The street car system is one of the excellence and the town is the most progressive in the republic.

Speaking of street car systems, Mr. Duncan referred to Algiers, where, as well as at Gibraltar, he visited before proceeding to Italy. He says in Algiers that the street cars come to a standstill if an attempt is made by any person to enter a car which is full to its seating capacity. If the passenger escapes the conductor's caution to get off, the passengers inside rise in the seats and protest, bringing the car to a standstill till the offender has been removed, or has withdrawn from the car because of this remarkable demonstration.

Mr. Duncan also spent some time visiting in the British Isles.

RECOMMENDATIONS TO GO TO OTTAWA NOW

Board of Trade Takes Action Following Cheslakee Disaster on Coast

At a meeting of the council of the board of trade this morning it was decided to forward the report of the committee on harbors and navigation to Hon. J. D. Hazen, minister of marine and fisheries, urging that the recommendations contained in the report be adopted as soon as possible.

Following is the report as presented to the council of the board of trade: "Your committee on harbors and navigation beg to remind you of the general feeling at the time of the Sechart and Inroquois that the requirements under the act governing the inspection of vessels were insufficient. In the meantime this board has communicated with the department of marine and fisheries, April 15 last, and was informed that 'every vessel which is registered as a British ship must be measured by a duly appointed measuring surveyor of ships; that the stowage of cargo and the amount of cargo on a vessel shall carry on deck, is properly the duty of the master to see to, and that it is not advisable to relieve him of that responsibility.

Your committee, while attaching importance to this view, would call attention to the variable condition of the water on this coast; protected waters, coasting waters, and ocean waters being contiguous on a short voyage, and that with the rapidly increasing tonnage operating there is increased liability of masters taking risk similar to the above; which resulted in the loss of valuable life. Therefore, your committee would most strongly urge that in addition to the inspection of hulls, boilers and machinery every vessel should be examined and reported upon for stability, and that additional and fully qualified inspectors should be appointed for this purpose.

Your committee further recommend that the regulations respecting the stowage of cargo and carrying of deck loads be amended with the object of minimizing the risk of loss of life and property at sea."

CADET BATTALION BALL IS SUCCESSFUL

Boys Make Admirable Hosts—Alexandra Club is Scene of the Enjoyable Function

The Victoria High School Cadet Battalion, through its splendidly organized second annual ball given last evening at the Alexandra Club, has established a record for hospitality which might well make an organization of older people envious. With a gathering of nearly 500 people, which would have rested heavily as a responsibility on a committee of older shoulders, the boys succeeded in keeping wonderful order, and a more enjoyable function could not easily be imagined.

From decorations and music to supper arrangements every detail was carefully planned, and the older people as well as the crowd of High School students and other young people, enjoyed the proceedings from the moment when His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Paterson, escorted by Major Dowler and accompanied by H. J. Muskett, entered the ballroom to the strains of the National Anthem. Mrs. Paterson was becomingly gowned in wisteria-colored satin draped with sequinned net. She and Lieut. Mulcahy headed the grand march with which the dancing commenced, following immediately behind His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, with Mrs. Mulcahy, handsomely gowned in black; Mr. and Mrs. George Jay, the latter wearing black satin veiled with sequinned net, and with a shoulder-knot of red roses, and Major Dowler with Mlle. Roy, who was dressed in pale pink satin with tulle of white chiffon. The official set of lancers was composed of Lieut. Mulcahy and Mrs. Paterson, Lieutenant-Governor Paterson and Mrs. Mulcahy, Col. Roy and Mrs. Home, who wore white lace over satin, with touches of mauve, and Major Dowler and Mlle. Roy.

The officers and non-commissioned officers of the Cadet Battalion present included Major Dowler, Captain Yull, Captain Brown, Adjutant Henderson, Lieutenant Lyons, Instructor Macdonald, Sergt.-Major Samson and Q. M. Gillie.

The following ladies acted as chaperones: Mrs. Alex. Robinson, Mrs. H. C. Hanington, Mrs. J. H. Henderson, Mrs. S. J. Willis, Mrs. Mulcahy, Mrs. George Jay, Mrs. T. H. Brown and Mrs. C. S. Lyons.

FRANK PATRICK'S LONE RUSH BEAT THE ROYALS THE CHAMPIONS DROP OVERTIME GAME 3-2

Ernie Johnson's Injury Cost Westminster Opening Struggle in New Arena—"King" Gardner's Courtiers Led 2 to 0 in Third Period—Sensational Hockey Delighted Crowd

New Westminster, B. C., Feb. 8.—After 5 minutes and 45 seconds of overtime play in a history-making game, it being the first game of professional hockey to be played here, "King" Jimmy Gardner and his regal courtiers were defeated last night by one Frank Patrick, who on a lone rush shoved the puck past Lehman for the final goal of the game, making the score 3 to 2 for Vancouver's aggregation of hockey players.

Queer Shaped Ice Surface.
Both teams seemed a little lost at first on account of the queer shape of the rink, which resembles an elongated saucer, but all seemed to find the shape and ice to their liking later on, and put up some very fast, though ragged and individual hockey. Local fans turned out well to welcome their team's first home appearance, and though the construction of the rink prevented one seeing the crowd at all times, the din they made was easily heard. Every time a New Westminster player took the puck it was the signal for an uproar such as has never been heard in Vancouver during any of the games there.

Rochon Going Well.
Right at the start Tobin put one past Parr, but it was offside. Lehman was then called on to stop some hot ones. All this time the Westminster forwards did a lot of work, but they were equal to it. Rochon essayed some of the prettiest end-to-end rushes of the game in this period. Tobin and Oatman both worked hard and made some nice shots, but Parr turned them all aside. There was no trace of his former poor work in Parr's stopping last night. Lots of combination was tried in this period and although there were many fine passes there was never anybody to get them. Harris played like a Trojan, and kept Lehman hopping around in great style. This period was clean throughout, and there were no penalties and no score.

Gardner Scores First Goal.
From the start of the second period New Westminster peppered Vancouver's goal with hot shots, and but for Parr's excellent work there would have been a big score. Johnson was making end-to-end rushes through the team, but Parr still saved. Jimmy Gardner's play in this period carried one back to the days of the "little men of iron," when Jimmy was the mainstay of the team. After 4 minutes and 32 seconds Gardner scored on a pass from Maillen. From then on Lehman was called upon every moment and made some wonderful saves. On one occasion he saved when the puck was batted at him three times in succession in the space of thirty seconds, from about two yards out. Vancouver was holding the Royals down better at this stage. Johnson, Tobin and Rochon worked like demons in this period. Johnson Badly Hurt.
About ten minutes after the start Johnson took a bad fall and landed his knee and head up against the goal post. It looked as if he would have to go off, but he pluckily continued and saved his team on innumerable occasions. Patrick at this period engineered a few very spectacular end-to-end rushes, but nothing came of them. Harris took the puck and scored, but as Maillen had been put into the boards and laid out it did not count. After 12.68 minutes of play Tobin got the puck and one of his pretty unassisted plays, beat Parr out. Score: New Westminster, 2; Vancouver, 0.

"Moose" Forced to Retire.
Vancouver jumped into the game with vim in the third period, determined that they would pull it out of the fire. After a great deal of persistent effort Kendall scored on a pass from behind by Taylor. Several good chances to score were passed up through no one covering the front of the goal to take the pass. On two or three occasions New Westminster had luck with them, as seemingly sure scores were missed by a hair's breadth. Taylor took a long shot after 8.23 minutes, and beat Lehman to it. Johnson had to retire then from the injuries received in the previous period. Oatman went back to cover, Tobin to the wing, and Ran McDonald took centre. From then on Westminster's chances looked slimmer, for Johnson was the life of the defence, and helped the forward line in many of their attacks.

Some Rough Work.
Oatman, who was evidently looking for trouble, hit St. Griffiths deliberately on the back with his stick, but Small did not notice him. Griffiths got the puck a minute or two after this, and when he passed Oatman gave the latter a blow on the head. They were both pretty raw pieces of work and deservedly the men both got fifteen minutes. Oatman was carried off and had to have his head bandaged up. Tobin was the next to get injured, wrenching his knee in a fall. After that he played hard, but lacked his former "pep."

Patrick's Winning Goal.
Walter Small ordered that the teams play till one side scored. Vancouver had all the best of the play in the overtime, and kept the New Westminsterers on the defensive from the start. Once or twice they broke away, but good checking back by the Vancouver forwards stopped them before they got very near Vancouver's goal. Frank Patrick took the puck near his own goal and carried it right through

ANOTHER COAST LEADER

BOBBY ROWE

Popular right wing of the Victoria Hockey Club, who tops the list for assists in the goal-scoring summary. Rowe passed the puck four times for goals when Westminster played here last, and is the most consistent hockey player in the league.

REMARKED ON THE SIDE

Royals Are Out of the Running Now.

Until Ernie Johnson hit a goal post last night in a rush on the Vancouver net, the Royals had the Millionaires tied up in knots. The absence of the famous defence star, however, killed the chances of the champions and they went down to their seventh defeat of the year, while the Millionaires gained a lap on the flying Victoria septette. It was tough luck for Westminster to drop their opening game on home ice, and while the fans will undoubtedly realize what the loss of Johnson meant to the team, a win last night would have put hockey in strongly at Westminster for all time. Vancouver eliminated Westminster, but the Millionaires will have to win a couple of games on Victoria ice before they can force to the front. The Senators have a big edge, and a win over Vancouver Tuesday night will help matters along. The Royals are out of the running for the title, but they will make things interesting for any team that ventures on Westminster ice.

How Vancouver's Win Helps Victoria.

By scoring the winning goal against the hapless Royals last night, Manager Frank Patrick, of the Millionaires, boosted Victoria's chance for the title. Had the Royals won, they would have been in a position to give both the teams a rush for the honors by a belated rally. Now, however, they have dropped one game at home and Victoria remains the only unbeaten club on home ice this season. The hoodoo which the Senators had over Vancouver last year is working overtime this season, while the Millionaires appear to be returning the compliment at the expense of Westminster. Victoria must win Tuesday night, however, as Vancouver will be able to jump right back in the running should they defeat the Capital City septette at the Willows. With Goldie Progers on the defence, and there is every prospect of having the husky point player in uniform for Tuesday's feature, Vancouver can hardly hope to down the leaders.

Way to Shorten Games.

All sorts of suggestions have been made and discussed which have for a purpose the shortening of big games, but the latest scheme emanates from the brain of Owner Frank Navin of the Detroit club. Navin figures that if the coaches' boxes at first and third bases were placed back about 10 feet, the games would be shortened materially. The idea is that the catchers nowadays take up so much time trying to hide their signs from the coaches that much time is wasted, and this could be avoided by so placing the coaches' boxes that the catchers would have nothing to fear from that source and could give their signs without any hesitancy.

Will Revive Speed Skating.

Norval Baptie, world's champion speed skater, may be instrumental in reviving amateur speed skating in western Canada. Norval has plans under consideration for next year.

These are nothing less than a series of invitation meets in big cities of western Canada, such as Winnipeg, Edmonton, Calgary, Regina, Vancouver and Victoria.

He believes it possible to bring out the best in the amateur ranks. The list would include Bobby McLean, of Chicago; Roy Wheeler, of Montreal; and Logan, of Montreal, with the western swimmers lining up against these cracks. Baptie is of the opinion that speed skating would again come into popular favor.

Moves Lukeman Up a Peg.

One effect of the confession of professionalism of James Thorpe is to place Frank Lukeman, of Montreal, third in the pentathlon event. If the Olympic committee decide that Thorpe's prize in the pentathlon shall go to the second man, while the competitor who finished third gets the prize at present held by the second competitor, Lukeman will be entitled to the medal at present held by the third competitor. Lukeman himself, finished fourth in the event.

Rube Marquard In Bad.

Rube Marquard, they say, is destined to discover that he is a shattered idol when he returns to Gotham. Rube's criticism of John McGraw, his antics in the spotlight and in the wings with Blossom Seeley and his cry for more salary, are all helping to dim his lustre in the eyes of the fans. What probably started Rube on his downward path in the eyes of the bugs has really a more historic foundation than his follies during the off season. After Richard de la Marquis annexed 19 consecutive contests, he found it hard heeling to land any more games at all. The 20 games following resulted as follows: Thirteen lost and seven won, less than an average of 500, a disappointing mark for a 1000 hurler in 10 games.

the Westminster team and scored, 5.45 minutes after play had started. Kendall, Harris and Parr starred for Vancouver, the little centre playing a grand game. Gardner, Rochon and Johnson were the best of the home talent.

FRANK GOTCH COMING OUT OF RETIREMENT

Chicago, Feb. 8.—Frank Gotch, the champion heavyweight wrestler of the world, is about to emerge from retirement. He came to Chicago to referee a wrestling bout, and incidentally he admitted he was about ready to answer the lure of the mat. Just whom Gotch would wrestle if he should decide to come back has not been stated. It is generally believed, however, that Zhyzsko would get the match.

RUSH FOR SEATS FOR TUESDAY; PRODGERS WILL BE ABLE TO PLAY

League Leaders Will Skate Out With Strongest Line-up—Royal Players to Handle the Game

Goldie Proger may possibly leave the Jubilee hospital this evening. In any event the Victoria cover-point will be out of his sick-bed to-morrow. This welcome news was given out by the medical men in attendance upon the bear cat this morning together with the assurance that Proger will be able to play against Vancouver next Tuesday night at the Willows ice palace. This means that the Millionaires will find themselves opposed to the champions' original line-up, Bobby Rowe also being in good shape when the M. D. made his rounds this morning. Lester Patrick states that his team will go through without any changes, unless, of course, Progers should be unable to go the route, in which case Bob Genge will make his appearance on the local defence.

Several Hundred Left.
Less than four hundred seats remain to be sold and the indications are that the largest crowd of the season will witness the contest. Victoria's clean-cut win over Vancouver on Tuesday night and the grand fight which the Senators are putting up for the Coast honors has primed the fans for a championship and they are going to show the players their appreciation of hockey ability by packing 'em in Tuesday night. Jimmie Gardner and Ed. Oatman will handle the game, this pair having been agreed upon earlier in the week. The usual features will again be given, the entries for this week's Wilkerson Cup race being exceptionally large.

What seats remain are on sale at the Fit-Rite parlors, Government street, and standing room coupons will be placed on sale at the Arena, Tuesday night.

COAST AMATEUR CHAMPIONS WILL BE WELCOMED BY CUP HOLDERS

Winnipeg Clubs Give Coast Representative Cordial Reception—Conditions of the Trophy Contests

Evidently they are quite eager at Winnipeg to secure a glimpse of the coast amateur hockey champions. In a letter received a few days ago by President Jack Mowatt, of the Victoria Amateur Hockey Association, the information is contained that the "Peg" hockey clubs will give the British Columbia Simon-Pures a real welcome. J. P. Watson, secretary of the V. A. H. A. is now at Winnipeg, and he has been looking up matters in connection with the Allan Cup, with the idea of challenging for the mug. Victoria will meet the Vancouver champions, shortly, when the Capital City amateurs hope to be returned coast champions.

Allan Cup Conditions.
Regarding the Allan Cup Mr. Watson writes that the expenses of the visiting team are defrayed by the gate money taken at the games; that all players must be vouched for as amateurs (registered), and the challenging team must not play any men who have played with any other team during the season, and that challenges for cup games must be sent to the trustees at Montreal, and it is in the power of the trustees to decide whether a series of "sudden death" games shall be played.

Hockey Draws Well.
As amateur hockey is the big card in Winnipeg, and they draw gates of twenty-five hundred dollars weekly, it will be seen that a trip to the "Peg" is not such a big undertaking. Five hundred dollars towards making the trip has already been promised the Victoria Club, should they beat Vancouver.

REAL BIG LEAGUER COMING

Former Cub Infielder May Be Landed for Bees—Locals Expect Another Twirler Also—Bresnahan's Juicy Contract

"I am on the trail of a real big leaguer to complete my infield, and if I can land this player he will not only be the highest paid ball player in the Northwestern League, but he will have a short stop who is one of the best ball players in the game, bar none," President Wattleit, of the local ball club was not in a boasting mood when he handed out the above "dope" this morning, as a bunch of telegrams showed, and there is every prospect that the locals will have landed their infielder before many days have elapsed. The Victoria club kept the wires hot all last week, trying to put through the deal, and President Wattleit figures that he can just about close this deal the first of next week.

Star Batter Also.

While not at liberty to divulge the name of the star in question the officers of the Bees state that this player now with Kansas City was with the Cubs two years ago, and is a consistent .300 hitter, besides being an exceptionally nimble infielder. What is more, he has a bundle of speed on the paths, and is just the man that the Bees need to put a little "pep" into the locals' offensive strength. The locals have strings out for a big leaguer twirler who may sign up any day, and with this pair they will stand pat.

Roger Bresnahan signed a three-year contract with the Cubs a couple of weeks ago that calls for nearly $30,000. Bresnahan received $12,000 from the St. Louis Cardinals in settlement of his claims against the owner, Mrs. Britton, who released him last fall from a so-called ironclad contract. Bresnahan, up to the time of his dismissal, had drawn more than $30,000 in salary from the Cardinals who had secured him from the Giants.

With forty-one players on the roster, about thirty-five of whom will report around March 20. President Bob Brown of the Vancouver Baseball Club announced last night that he would stand pat now and no more names will be added to the list unless some phenom turns up.

WOLGAST SIGNS TO MEET MURPHY

Former Champion is Guaranteed $9,000 for Battle at 'Frisco

San Francisco, Feb. 3.—Ad Wolgast is the man who will meet Tommy Murphy, of New York, in place of Joe Mandot, of New Orleans, whom illness compelled to cancel his match here with Murphy for twenty rounds on February 22.

"There are four lightweights whom the public regards as contenders for Willie Ritchie's title," said James Coffroth, who planned to put on the bout. "These four are Wolgast, the late champion; Mandot, who has the gripper; Joe Rivers of Los Angeles, and the veteran, Murphy."

"Rivers is already matched to fight Knockout Brown, of New York, on February 22. That leaves only Wolgast available. Steve Ketchel, of Chicago, and Bud Anderson, of Vancouver, Wash., both of whom have been mentioned, may be good boys, but they aren't high enough on the ladder yet to climb into a match of this class."

Portland, Or., Feb. 3.—Ad Wolgast announced his acceptance of terms of the San Francisco promoter for a contest with Tommy Murphy on February 22 at San Francisco. Wolgast is guaranteed $9,000 as his share or, if he chooses, 50 per cent. of the gross receipts. The fight will be a 20-round affair. Wolgast will do some preliminary training here, but expects to go to San Francisco in the latter part of next week.

"TY" STILL HEADS SCORERS

Vancouver Goal - Getter Running Second, With Lester Patrick Well Up

Tommy Dunderdale continues to lead the Coast scorers, and it looks as if the Victoria centre will top the list this season. There are seven games remaining to be played by the Senators, and Dunderdale, at the rate he is now travelling, should about double his present total. Harris and Kendall, of Vancouver, are the contenders, but neither of these players can show the finish that marks Dunderdale's shooting. Lester Patrick is well up, while Bobby Rowe would be higher if the scorers would only give him the goals he gets. The individual scoring to date is as follows:

TROPHY FOR CITY BOWLING LEAGUE

FIT-RITE CUP

To encourage ten-pin bowling in the Capital, Mr. James Stephen, of the firm of Richardson and Stephen, proprietors of the Fit-Rite Parlors, has donated a handsome trophy which will be awarded the winners of the City Bowling League Championship. The B. C. Telephone Club are now leading, but the remaining five clubs in the league promise to give the "Hello" trundlers a merry fight for the silverware. The trophy is an exceptionally beautiful specimen of the silversmith's art and must be won two years in succession to become the property of any club. It is a very valuable piece of silverware and is so mounted that it will permit of shields, bearing the names of the winning club, being attached to the base. The cup will be placed on view in the Fit-Rite Parlors this week.

INSURES BALL PLAYERS.

Chicago, Feb. 8.—Charles W. Murphy, of the Chicago National League team, announced to-day that he had insured the lives of Manager John D. Evers and Catchers James Archer and Roger Bresnahan for $50,000 each, for the present year, or for a total of $150,000.

CALLS OFF BOUT.

Chicago's Mayor Refuses to Allow Wrestling Match.

Chicago, Feb. 8.—Mayor Harrison put the ban of official disapproval on a proposed wrestling match between Stanislaus Zhyzsko and George Lurich, the Russian wrestler, in a letter to Chief of Police McWeeny, in which he referred to the "Goth-Hackenschmidt match as the Labor Day swindle at White Sox Park in 1911. The mayor's letter said: "My information is to the effect that Lurich is or has been under the management of persons connected with the Labor Day swindle in 1911. One of the promoters already has seen me and has been informed that the match cannot be pulled off. Certainly no permit should ever be issued to any of the crowd that quilled the public in the Goth-Hackenschmidt fiasco of 1911."

SWIMMING RECORDS.

Chicago, Feb. 8.—Three world's records were broken here in the Central Amateur Athletic Union swimming races in the Illinois Athletic Club tank.

Perry McGilivray, of the Illinois A. C., swam 500 yards in 1:12 4-5, beating C. H. Daniel's world's record of 1:13 2-5. Rathel, McGilivray's team-mate, equaled the world's 40-yard record in two laps of the 100-yard open race and beat the world's figures of 19 2-5 in his 40-yards of the Central A. A. U. championship relay, swimming the 40 yards in 19 flat. E. W. McGilivray, Perry McGilivray, Rathel and W. C. Woodward, of the Chicago A. C., swam the 160 relay in 1:17 8-5, a new record.

Olympic champion Michal McDermott took the Chicago Central A. A. U. championship 200-yard breast stroke in hollow fashion, in 2:47 2-5, nearly ten seconds behind his own world's record.

BEAT THE RUBE.

Spokane, Wash., Feb. 8.—"I'll give anyone $50 that catches that ball," said Rube Marquard, star pitcher for the New York Giants, to a large crowd that had assembled at noon here on Thursday to see the noted pitcher catch a baseball thrown from the roof of a sixteen-story building. Marquard had made his challenge and proffered the use of his glove after carefully miffing two balls thrown to him by the press agent of a downtown house where Marquard is appearing. Instantly George Crofoot, a jeweller's clerk, seized Marquard's glove, caught the third ball, and Marquard handed him $50 in gold, while part of the crowd applauded and part twitted him with yells of "get a basket!" "Rube is right!" "Back to the brush!"

TAKE NAVY RESOLUTION DIVISION NOT LATER THAN THURSDAY NIGHT NEXT

had expressed the opinion that the two proposals are not contradictory but complementary. He would join with Mr. Sharpe, he continued, in urging that the navy question should be removed from contentious politics. Col. McLean then went on to argue that the leaders of the two parties should meet in conference over the question with a view to bringing about unanimity. A conference of an hour, he said, would solve the outlines of a policy on which both parties could agree, if the respective leaders approached the conference in the proper spirit.

Mr. McLean then dealt with the question of the probable cost of constructing a Canadian navy. In this connection, he said that Australia was spending $85,000,000 alone on docks and stores and that the total projected expenditure for a period of twenty-two years is forty million dollars. It was a question, he said, if Canada would care to go in for such a great expenditure as that. Argentina in the last few years has spent $10,000,000. It is doubtful if Canada is prepared even to compete with the Argentine in naval construction. The United States expenditure for the navy is $2.75 per head. This, for Canada, would mean $20,000,000 a year.

Mr. McLean then dealt with the probable cost of building Dreadnoughts in Canada, accepting as the basis of his argument the calculations made by Mr. Pugsley that the cost of Canadian construction would be 20 per cent. more than if the ships were built in England.

Mr. Borden interrupted him to say that he had the best authority for stating that the cost would be 30 or even 40 per cent. higher.

Mr. McLean went into an elaborate argument to show that if Dreadnoughts were built in Canada, only 40 per cent of the money could be spent on this side. The guns, the armor plate, and practically every requirement would have to be brought from England. In the case of the cruisers, only 70 per cent would be spent in Canada. He figured out that it would cost eight millions to have six millions spent in Canada. This, he said, does not look like a good business proposition. Mr. McLean also made the point that other countries, such as Japan and Brazil, still go to England when they want the very best thing in the shape of naval construction.

DO YOUR HANDS CHAP?

Zam-Buk Will Heal in One Night.

For badly chapped hands, cold cracks, frost bite, etc., Zam-Buk is the best known balm. Wash the hands or part affected in water as hot as can be borne. Dry with a soft towel, and then smear the Zam-Buk well over the part. If it is the hands, wear a pair of old gloves overnight. By morning the pain will be gone. Then use Zam-Buk a few more times and the cracks will be healed. Mrs. A. F. Phillips, of Ayers Cliff, Que., says: "I suffered terribly from chapped hands. At times my hands were so sore that I could almost have cried with the pain. I tried Zam-Buk, and in a very short time my hands were cured."

Mrs. W. M. Ballant, of Port Hawkesbury, N. S., writes: "Some time ago my hands were very badly chapped. Ordinary ointments did not heal them, and I was advised to try Zam-Buk. To my great delight it healed my hands completely."

Zam-Buk will also be found a sure cure for piles, ulcers, blood-poison, varicose sores, cuts, burns, bruises and skin injuries generally. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, on receipt of price.

LOOK!

If you were told of a new discovery for the treatment of coughs, colds and bronchitis, as certain in its action on all chest troubles as anti-toxin is on diphtheria, or vaccination on small-pox, wouldn't you feel like giving it a trial? Especially if you could try it for fifty cents!

Peps is the discovery!
Peps is a little tablet, neatly wrapped in air and germ-proof silver foil. They contain certain medicinal ingredients, which, when placed upon the tongue, immediately turn into vapour, and are at once breathed down the air passages to the lungs. On their journey they soothe the inflamed and irritated membranes of the bronchial tubes, the delicate walls of the air passages, and finally enter and carry relief and healing to the capillaries and tiny air sacs in the lungs.

In a word, while no liquid or solid can get to the lungs and air passages, these Peps fumes get there direct, and at once commence their work of healing.

Peps are entirely distinct from the old-fashioned liquid cough cures, which are merely swallowed into the stomach, and never reach the lungs. Peps treatment of coughs and colds is direct treatment.

If you have not yet tried Peps, cut out this article, write across it the name and date of this paper, and mail it (with 1c stamp to pay return postage) to Peps Co., Toronto. A free trial packet will then be sent you. All druggists and stores sell Peps at 50c. box.

"EXHIBITION HABIT" GROWING ON PEOPLE

North Ward School Children Visited Palestine Yesterday
—Crowds Attend Lectures

Despite the popular tradition that Friday is a difficult day to draw a crowd, the attendance yesterday at the Palestine exhibition was excellent. The crowd commenced early in the forenoon with the arrival of nearly 370 children from North Ward school, the senior pupils coming first, and two hundred of the smaller children following in time to hear the costume-lecture which was delivered as a closing feature of the proceedings. The children were delighted and interested with the talk on "Shepherd Customs of Palestine," which was given to them stripped of its more scholarly elements and translated into popular language which the children easily understood. The eastern custom which demands that men accost each other with an embrace while the women formally shake hands on meeting, was shown by some of the costumed assistants, while other incidents in the life of the shepherd and farmer were shown to the fascinated audience of juveniles who loudly applauded at the close of the lecture.

On Monday the exhibition will be formally reopened by the Lord Bishop of Columbia, who was unable to be present at the opening last Monday owing to his absence in another part of the diocese. Rev. A. Carson will take the chair, and the proceedings will be repeated in much the same order as on the first day.

The "exhibition habit" is growing, and many people visit the drill hall every day, on each occasion finding some new features of interest both in the exhibition itself and in the entertaining lectures given. Rev. Mr. Schor's evening costume-lectures are given in serial form, and many attend nightly for the express purpose of following the series to its conclusion. His dissertations on archaeology are also very interesting and scholarly. Regular visitors will miss Rev. Mr. Connell, who has been in daily attendance at the Judea Court, as he has been obliged temporarily to discontinue his services there owing to a slight attack of la grippe. The sale of stamps specially taken charge of by Rev. Mr. Schor, is one of the most profitable branches of the exhibition, the proceeds from this being devoted to the maintenance of a cot in the Safed hospital in Palestine. The entire undertaking of the exhibition is in behalf of the London Society for the Propagation of Christianity among the Jews.

The refreshment room yesterday was in charge of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Saviour's church, the members of the Ladies' Aid of St. Paul's Presbyterian church, and the Wesley Methodist church, all of Victoria West. The following ladies assisted: Mrs. Connell, Mrs. Harper, Mrs. Hibbard, Mrs. Popert, Mrs. Sisman, Mrs. Collis, Mrs. Lucas, Mrs. Abbey and Miss Saunders, all of St. Saviour's church; Mrs. Weir, Miss Murdoch, Miss Patterson, of St. Paul's Presbyterian church; Mrs. Bond, Miss Beatty and Mrs. Welsh, of Victoria West Methodist church; Miss Little and Mrs. Fatt acted as cashiers. The members of the girls' branches of the various societies assisted in serving.

PIMPLES ON FACE ARMS AND LEGS

Scratched So Made Red Sore. Trouble Grew Worse All the Time. A Cake of Cuticura Soap and a Box of Cuticura Ointment Completely Cured.

Wille Jollette, Que.—"My little girl, aged four years, had so many pimples on her face, arms and legs that I did not know what to do. They lasted for a year. She commenced to scratch and this made pimples, clear, not red. She scratched so much that the blood ran and it made a red sore. The sores were worse on her arms and legs and on her face, and they were ugly looking with the blood. I was told what to do to stop her suffering, and I used the treatment but other pimples came out all the time. I tried all sorts of remedies, but the trouble grew worse all the time. It was always the same story, until I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I began to apply the Cuticura Ointment on her, also hot water and Cuticura Soap. Immediately I began to see that they were curing her, and after having used a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment she was completely cured. She has just as fine a skin as before. My husband also used Cuticura Ointment for cracks in his hands. After three applications of the Cuticura Ointment he was completely cured." (Signed) Mrs. Alfred Corrier, Jan. 16, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. For a liberal free sample of each, with 32-p. book, send post card to Foster Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 33D, Boston, U. S. A.

was the successful one of the three tenders for brass goods, the total order being $2,083.96. The tenders for hydrants and castings were laid over for a week for further consideration. It was discovered on examination that prices quoted by outside firms were lower, in most cases, than those of local merchants for similar classes of material.

HUMOR OF TAG DAY

Young Man Subscribed to Cause Thinking It Was For Hospitals.

To-day the suffragettes of Victoria are busily engaged in trying to tag everyone that passes along the street. This morning a particularly charming young lady was doing sentry work outside the post-office, and when one young man, who is notoriously opposed to female franchise, came out of the building, she pounced upon him, extending her box for his contribution. He asked if the slit in the box was large enough to admit a silver dollar, and the girl, thinking of her own rights at once showed him that it was. He dropped in the dollar and allowed her to pin the ribbon on the lapel of his coat in return, and with a self-satisfied smile started up Government street.

When he reached the Board of Trade Building on Bastion square, someone called out, "Oh, you suffragette!" He smiled in response in a puzzled, vacant way, and those nearby united in a chorus of "Oh, you suffragette!" This made the young man angry and he demanded an explanation. In reply they pointed to the ribbon he was so proudly displaying, and gave their cry again.

At last he saw the point, and, tearing the ribbon off, trampled it under foot. "I thought it was Hospital Saturday," he said. "And I'm stung for a dollar for them!"

There was a world of scorn in the way he uttered "them."

SEVEN YEARS OF MISERY

How Mrs. Bethune was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Sikeston, Mo.—"For seven years I suffered everything. I was in bed for four or five days at a time every month, and so weak I could hardly walk. I had cramps, backache and headache, and was so nervous and weak that I dreaded to see anyone or have anyone move in the room. The doctors gave me medicine to ease me at those times, and said that I ought to have an operation. I would not listen to that, and when a friend of my husband's told him about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for his wife, I was willing to take it. Now
I look the picture of health and feel like I, too, I can do all my own housework, work in the garden and entertain company, and enjoy them, and can walk as far as any ordinary woman, any day in the week. I wish I could talk to every suffering woman and girl, and tell them what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs. DEMA BETHUNE, Sikeston, Mo.

Remember, the remedy which did this was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, the bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it?

W. H. Carswell, business manager of the Vancouver Sun, paid a flying visit to Victoria yesterday, returning to Vancouver last night.

The engagement is announced of Miss Florence Brown, of Victoria, to Percy Elsey, of the Grand Trunk Pacific steamer Prince Rupert.

Mrs. McClement and daughter, who have been visiting here for some time past, left yesterday by the Northern Pacific for their home in Boston.

J. D. Moore, of New York, is here looking over the city, which he says confirms the most optimistic reports.
He is registered at the Empress Hotel.

Dr. and Mrs. T. Glendon Moody, of Vancouver, are staying at the Empress Hotel. They came over to see Dr.
Moody's father, who is seriously ill at his home here.

Mrs. Stewart Williams, son and daughter, leave to-morrow by the North Coast Limited and the Anchor Line for a trip to the Mediterranean, and other European points.

E. W. Wilson, purchasing agent for Twohy Brothers, the railway contractors, who has been staying at the Empress Hotel during the week, leaves for Vancouver to-night, en route to the headquarters' camp at Merritt.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Pringle, having spent the past ten months in Wainwright, Alta., returned to the city last Saturday. Before coming on to Victoria they spent a few days in Vancouver, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. P.
A. Thompson, and were present at the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Pringle, Mrs. Thompson's

THE EVENING CHIT-CHAT
By RUTH CAMERON

Are you tired of hearing about the efficiency movement, that great new science of doing things in the quickest and easiest way?

If you are not, I have a new application for it. As you know, the efficiency idea has been applied to housework, and it has been proved
that by eliminating useless motions, perfecting
her apparatus and improving the conditions under which she works,
such as the position of apparatus,
tables, etc., a big slice of every woman's time and energy can be saved.

Now if the science of efficiency is useful in this department of woman's work, why can't it be applied to others?
And in what possible direction could a study of energy and time-saving be more valuable than in relation to shopping?

Are you an efficient shopper? I don't simply mean do you get what you go after. But do you get it without using an unduly large amount of time and energy?

It was after a morning of shopping which left me astonishingly tired and out of temper that I began to wonder if I might not use more efficient methods in this matter.

I went over the ground thoroughly in my mind and formulated some rules for more efficient shopping. If shopping leaves you astonishingly tired and out of temper, you may be interested in them.

One should always make out a list,
not only of articles to be shopped for,
but of places to be visited. Twice during that day I went back to a shop in which I had bought one article, for another. It will certainly save time if, before leaving home, or on the journey to town, you make out a list of shops to be visited in the order of their convenience. Under each shop write down the articles which you want to look for there.

If you are going to have several things to carry, do not try to carry them separately. It is confusing to try to keep track of them, to say nothing of the danger of loss—and confusion often tires one more than actual work. Either have some kind of a bag or case to carry them in or have them wrapped up together.

Don't let yourself get too tired. Five minutes spent in the rest room just relaxing would double your efficiency for the rest of the forenoon.

Don't let yourself get too hungry.
When you begin to feel confused and unable to concentrate, get a cup of chocolate or bouillon and see how much simpler everything seems.

Be sure to wear comfortable shoes and a light, small hat.

These are just a few things that I feel would make me a more efficient shopper. They may please you, and then again, they may not. Even if they don't, they may start a train of thought which will bring you some helpful ideas.

PROMPTNESS

By GEORGE MATHEW ADAMS

Be on Time.

Because of the lateness of Marshal Grouchy, of the French army, at the battle of Waterloo, Blucher had time to whip his army on to the help of Wellington. Napoleon ordered right.
Had not the man to whom he entrusted his awful orders blundered—hesi-tated—been late—the whole history of Europe would have been changed from 1815.

Be on Time.

"The Train was late," is the most frequent explanation after a terrible accident. What a multitude of lives have been lost, what an army of men and women have been deprived of position and honor, what untold suffering and humiliation have followed in the path of the late Mr. Late. Nothing pays better than Promptness.

Be on Time.

Promptness is the act of being on the job when your name is called—and answering to it. Not Nearly—but There.

Be on Time.

Time tells its minutes with even regular strokes—never has a stroke been tolled out of Tune or out of Time.
The Job, the Appointment, the Order, the Friend, the Opportunity—won't wait for the man who doesn't respond on the dot.

Be on Time.

Be not deceived by the cheap clanging of gold and silver—gifts through whose possession you imagine yourself immune to Honor and the Promptness of Appointments. There is no winning to the slothful. The world with all its wonderful offerings gives its choice freely to the man of his word.

Be on Time.

Be on Time at your desk each day
—at each and every Appointment throughout each day. In fact, the path to greatness starts by being on time each morning at your own Breakfast table. That's the beginning anyway.

Be on Time.

Victoria Carnival Week, August 4 to 9, 1913.

Marriage of Convenience.

While many Canadians have had the opportunity and pleasure of seeing Mr. Lewis Waller, the distinguished English actor, in England, there are many who have not been so fortunate. To this end Mr. Waller decided some weeks ago to come to Canada with his entire English company in a play made famous by him in England, "A Marriage of Convenience," by Alexander Dumas. Sydney Grundy adapted the story to the English stage in 1903. Mr. Waller shortly afterwards gave a command performance before the late King Edward at Sandringham Palace.

The play relates the sometimes unwise customs of social France, wherein the parents of two young persons marry them off to each other. Mlle. Torgny and the Comte de Candale, while finding themselves married to each other, realize that they are scarcely acquainted and that both of their hearts are following the destinies of someone else. The period of three days, however, welds the hearts of the two young persons. For the interpretation of the piece Mr. Waller has brought a notable company of players, which includes the delightful Madge Titheradge, Maxwell Ryder, Charles Dodsworth, Reginald Danie,

C. Staley, Daniel Burns, Jack Pierce, Marie Taylor, Fred Maynard, Grace Morrissey, Edith Luckett, George K. Henry, Charles H. Henderson, Dore Rodgers and others.

"The Girl From Tokio."

At the Victoria Theatre on February 15, with a reputation of having scored a year's run in Berlin, "The Girl From Tokio" will be presented in Victoria for the first time. It is a farce-comedy, translated from the German of Robert Pohl, by George V. Barnum and Frank Tannehill, Jr. "The Girl From Tokio" is under the direction of Frank O. Miller, of the Manhattan Opera House, New York, and is said to be a very funny farce. In the company are the Misses Julia Morton, Adelaide Matthews, Leo Hobbs Martin, May Holten, Sherry Snyder and Jane Hanna, and Messrs. Edmund Forde, Henry Travers, John Raymond and Allan Brander.

Adeline Gence.

Victoria has never before been favoured with such novelty as will be experienced in the visit of Gence and her brilliant corps de ballet on Tuesday, February 18, when they will appear at the Victoria theatre with special scenery and their own orchestra. Magnificent indeed are the stage set-brought up by a colored mammy. She has always told him that he was left in her charge by his parent. The boy manages to acquire a little education, and on reaching manhood falls in love with a beautiful aristocratic girl. His colored nurse now swears that she has lied about his parentage, and that she is his real mother. The play serves to introduce several colored characters. There is a good comedy vein. Miss Page will play a strong emotional part, the daughter of a mountaineer. Mr. Howland is cast for Jack Rose. Miss Rice will be seen in the character of Dagmar, the nurse. Miss Farnsworth, Mr. Belasco, Mr. Alden, Mr. Williams and the remainder of the company have good parts. The piece calls for special scenery, which will be strongly Southern in tone. "Pinney Ridge" will run all week.

An Engaging Play.

It is seldom that so delightful and engaging a play as "Milestones" is offered to the theatre-going public. It is a new opera roles or musical composition, self-denial is required, careful diet and work-work-work!

Path Is Hard.

A formal offer has been made to Franz Lehar, composer of "The Merry Widow" and "The Man With Three Wives" by the Messrs. Shubert, which they hope will result in inducing him to visit this continent and write the score for an original American light opera. The proposition is, in brief, that Mr. Lehar shall come to this continent and make a trip from San Francisco to New York and back, with the one stipulation that he is to furnish the score for an American operetta within one year from the date of his arrival. He will be invited to consult with the various prominent librettists and a number of ideas will be presented to him for consideration. The librettist whose scenario meets with the favor of the famous composer will be designated as his travelling companion on his transcontinental tour, in order that book and score may be created as nearly simultaneously as possible and with the closest co-operation.

Ambitious young singers who have rosy dreams of the easy life of the successful professional should pause to consider, assents Leo Slezak, the Metropolitan Opera Company's star dramatic tenor, who visits Victoria (and Canada for a first time) on February 25. It is all very well to be hopeful and to regard the work of singing as something delightfully artistic, but it has its hardships, he says, and they are many.

"Many inexperienced young people who have naturally fine voices are apt to be over-enthusiastic," said the tenor a few days ago. "I like to see enthusiasm and self-confidence where it is well tempered, but some of these vocal fledglings would save themselves and their loved ones many heartaches if they looked the singing question in the face a little more honestly."

"Every artist, as a rule, takes keen enjoyment in appearing before a large audience and doing his best. That part of the work is pleasant, but in order to sing with success, to keep the voice in proper condition at all times, to preserve the perfect health necessary to continued success and to prepare new opera roles or musical compositions, self-denial is required, careful diet and work-work-work!

"I cannot advise young singers too strongly, before deciding upon a professional career to ascertain precisely what hardships must be encountered and the patient struggles endured before they finally come in sight of the desired goal. It looks to the outsider, like an easy life, but the path is not one of the roses."

son's Uncle Josh," and Joseph Jefferson's "Rip."

Its Beauty Equipment. The beauty contingent in "Everywoman" is said to rival that of any similar coterie in the current musical comedies. The characters of Youth, Beauty and Modesty are impersonated by a trio of bewitching little beauties, Patricia Collins, Lois Meredith and Pauline deLorne. One of the scenes in "Everywoman" is a graphic reproduction of the mimic world of a big New York playhouse where a rehearsal is being conducted. A full chorus, such appeals to all classes and all ages. Here is an extract giving an opinion on "Milestones" from Mr. Joseph H. Wade, superintendent of the department of education of New York City. It is a long time since I enjoyed a dramatic performance as I enjoyed the performance of "Milestones". It is seldom that New York theatregoers have an opportunity to witness a play that teaches a moral without preaching; that holds the mirror up to nature in the fascinating manner of this play.

"The Merry Widow" has proved without question the right to the title "The Operetta Sensation of the World" by coming back in this its sixth season, with two companies doing a record-breaking business everywhere.

One of the special features of "The Honeymoon Express," the new Winter Garden production is a miniature ballet. This was prepared by Theodore Kosloff, who was stage director for the historic "Saison des Ballets Russes," a Negro's Success.

Willis Sweetman, who plays the Pullman porter in Henry W. Savage's production of Rupert Hughes' travel comedy "Excuse Me," is the first black-face comedian to lift the negro character out of the realm of buffoonery. Several years ago when Mr. Savage was looking for an actor to play the character of Sassafras Livingstone in George Ade's "The County Chairman," Sweetman was selected from a score of candidates because he humanized Ade's creation. Critics throughout the country have gone on record as comparing Sweetman's Sassafras relatively with Denham Thompas appears in the average musical comedy, is used in this scene.

Mrs. Fiske's Play.

Not since her phenomenal success in "Leah Kleschna" has Mrs. Fiske found a vehicle so adapted for the display of her great talent as "The High Road," by Edward Sheldon, provides. The play depicts the growth of a woman's mind and soul. It has several intense climaxes which Mrs. Fiske's fine art makes doubly impressive.

Actress Because of War. Fired by the same spirit of patriotism which led her brother to sacrifice a profitable candy business in Buffalo, N. Y., to return to his fatherland, Bulgaria, to fight against the Turk, Irene Shuska donated her private fortune, amounting to some $4,000, to her country's war fund. Lacking any other relatives on this continent to whom she could look for support, she sought the stage as a means of livelihood. A short time ago she was engaged by Henry W. Savage to be one of the chorus of "Somewhere Else," the Hopwood-Luders musical fantasy.

Alluring Title. Mlle. Gaby Deslys and Al Jolson returned to the Winter Garden, New York, Monday evening, February 3, in an entirely new musical production which has received the alluring title of "The Honeymoon Express." In addition to Gaby Deslys and Mr. Jolson, the cast will include Ada Lewis, Fanny Brice, Yvonne Dolly, Melville Ellis, Harry Pilcher, Harry Fox, Ernest Glendinning, E. Owen Baxter, Doyle and Dixon, and Lou Anger. The chorus

Famous Scientist Who Originated the Now Wonderful "Home Treatment" Offers $1.00 Package Free to Sick and Ailing

In order that every reader of the Times who may not have heard of this wonderful "Home Treatment" may have an opportunity to test this famous medicine, the now famous scientist, Dr. James W. Kidd, offers to give absolutely free a full size $1 package to five hundred readers of this paper, to prove the wonderful claims which have been made for it. In making this offer the scientist said: "I know that there are many people who have been suffering for years with some chronic disease and many of them have spent large sums of money seeking a cure. I know that these people hesitate about investing money in medicine because they have despaired of ever getting well. Thousands have told me that story and many thousands of the same people have told me afterwards that my treatment had cured them after doctors and everything else had failed. I want to prove to a limited number—no matter how the disease, no matter how long they may have suffered, no matter how blue and discouraged—that my treatment really and actually does accomplish the wonderful results that have been reported."

People who suffer from Rheumatism, Kidney Trouble, Stomach Trouble, Liver or Bowel Disorders, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Chronic Coughs, Weak Lungs, Lumbago, Piles, Urinary Disorders, Female Weaknesses of any kind, the weak, worn out, broken-down and despondent will be delighted at the effect of a few doses. "Romance of Middle Age." Poets and dramatists without number have exploited the romance of roseate youth, but it has remained for David Belasco to celebrate the romance of middle age. This is just what Mr. Belasco has done in his production of the comedy now running at the Belasco theatre, New York, named "Years of Discretion." In an article soon to appear in a leading publication, Mr. Belasco tells over his own signature some of the unique theories he entertains regarding middle age and its possibilities for happiness, and just why he was anxious to produce a play in which all the love-interest should be centred about men and women not far from the half century mark. "Years of Discretion" is having a remarkably successful run at the Belasco theatre.

"Broadway Jones."

While theatregoers in New York are still seeing George M. Cohan's latest success, "Broadway Jones," the play will be seen at the Victoria Theatre on Monday, February 17.

Broadway Jones has squandered a fortune in an endeavor to burn up Broadway. There comes the inevitable smash, and his money is all gone. He consents to marry an heiress old enough to be his mother, but before that event an obliging uncle dies and leaves him a chewing gum factory in Jonesville, Connecticut. The girl in the play dawns on the scene at this time, and through her influence, he is induced to go to Jonesville, his native city, and becomes an active head of his new possession. The cast presenting the play here includes John Webster, Ralph Morgan, Caroline Lill, Geo.

ting and the costumes of this wonderful dancer who has all Europe at her feet. Her offering is a superb production of the history of the dance in the most brilliant period of French court life, the eighteenth century, when Louis XIV. and XVI. reigned in all their gorgeous luxury and frivolity. It is a series of portrayals of the famous French dancers of that age. Gence, while preparing this ballet, visited all the great European art galleries. In order to have everything. The music used in conjunction with those old-time dances has been just as faithfully studied; and days have been spent over old manuscripts in the British museum, unearthing rare treasures. Into this historical atmosphere Gence breathes life and beauty, and the most enchanting grace of humor.

INDUSTRIAL CITY HEIGHTS

We wish to state that, while these lots offer an investment that appeals especially to the man of small means, they possess the necessary features to attract all classes of investors.

Although the Lots In INDUSTRIAL CITY HEIGHTS Only Cost

$125 AND UP

And can be bought on extremely easy terms, it does not follow that investors will necessarily have to wait several years to make a profit, as is usually the case with subdivisions selling at such prices.

CONDITIONS AT INDUSTRIAL CITY HEIGHTS WILL WARRANT AN IMMEDIATE ADVANCE IN PRICES.

INDUSTRIAL CITY HEIGHTS is not dependent on expectations for its development. Industries EMPLOYING HUNDREDS OF MEN are, AT THIS MOMENT, in operation on adjacent sections.

NOR IS NANAIMO, where INDUSTRIAL CITY HEIGHTS is situated, dependent for its development on EXPECTED INDUSTRIES. The INDUSTRIES and the PAYROLL ARE THERE, and NEW INDUSTRIES with LARGE PAYROLLS are being opened up right along.

A STREET CAR SYSTEM means much to values in a city, emphasizing as it does that city's growth and importance.

NANAIMO'S STREET CAR SYSTEM IS ASSURED

The necessary by-law has been passed by the City Council, and it is only a matter of a few months until the cars will be running.

INDUSTRIAL CITY HEIGHTS is on the route of one of the proposed lines. Do you realize what that means to buyers in the subdivision?

VALUES AT NANAIMO ARE INCREASING faster, and there are more resources and more to warrant such increase than in any other city in Western Canada.

TO VICTORIANS who missed their opportunity at home, NANAIMO offers a chance to get in at BOTTOM PRICES and RISE ON THE TIDE OF PROGRESS.

We appeal to the man of small means and to the capitalist alike, feeling absolutely certain that in INDUSTRIAL CITY HEIGHTS we have one of the best propositions on the market FOR ANY CLASS OF INVESTOR.

ENJOYING THE BEST OF HEALTH

"Fruit-a-tives" Cured His Rheumatism

PROF. J. F. DAVIS

"563 Church Street, Toronto. I want to say to the people of Toronto and elsewhere that 'Fruit-a-tives' is my only medicine and has been for the last four years. Previous to that, I had been very much troubled with Rheumatism and Kidney Disease, and had taken many remedies as well as employing hot applications of salt bags, etc., without getting satisfactory results.

"Noticing the advertisement of 'Fruit-a-tives,' I adopted this treatment altogether and, as everybody knows, since taking 'Fruit-a-tives,' I have been enjoying the very best health and find it a pleasure to follow my vocation of Dancing and Deportment Instruction."

"PROF. J. F. DAVIS. Prof. Davis, the celebrated teacher of dancing and deportment in Toronto, is quite frank in stating that 'Fruit-a-tives' alone cured him of distressing Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. ## TERRIBLE AFRICAN FETISH WORSHIP

"LONG JUJU" CULT STILL IN EXISTENCE

British Expedition Thought to Have Stamped It Out Ten Years Ago

Ten years ago a British expedition to Southern Nigeria was thought to have stamped out the dreaded "Long Juju" of Arochuku, but events have proved that though scooped the cult was far from killed. Of late a powerful Aro chief named Kanu Okoru has raised the organization to almost its former vast proportions. But for the vigorous action of the district commissioner, who, in unveiling the fresh horrors of the "Long Juju," nearly paid for it with his own life, another big expedition would probably have been necessary.

In spite of the vigilance of the government, until a few weeks ago the Aros made most of their wealth through the slave trade. Northward as far as Udi, and southward to the sea, the country is honeycombed by slave routes. Along these were continually passing the victims of the revived "Long Juju," too terrorized to complain to the white man or do anything in self-defence. Such was the power of the "Juju" emissaries that if they only pointed a finger at a man, woman, or child the wretched creature had to follow them without thought of hesitation or resistance. The most lucrative side of this hideous traffic was the supply of sacrificial victims to those wealthy enough to pay for such means of ensuring rich crops or answers to prayer.

Closely as the dread secrets of the "Long Juju" were guarded, rumors at length reached the government, and the district commissioner at great personal risk made inquiry. Many ringleaders were arrested, but they could be freed, since no murders could be proved, and, as already said, the cult of Chuku had not been made illegal. The release of these ringleaders was regarded by the Aros as further proof that their "Juju" was more powerful than the white man.

Though baffled for a time the district commissioner was determined to stamp out the movement, and the cult was made illegal. As a result further arrests were justified, and several of the chief priests were sentenced to death. In order to avenge their kin, relatives of the condemned men poisoned the commissioner's food, but luckily antidotes were at hand and the attempt only resulted in a severe illness. The chief, Kanu Okoru, had safeguarded himself with such skill that it was found impossible to convict him of murder, so while subordinates suffer the extreme penalty, the arch-conspirator, who has amassed a fortune of at least half a million, could only be condemned to three years' imprisonment.

One of the most startling results of the investigations was the discovery of a slave town, with 2,000 to 3,000 souls, at the back of Kanu Okoru's compound. This was screened from the road by only a few yards of bush, but so dense is the vegetation that its existence had never been suspected. No smoke was visible above the high trees, and the thick undergrowth hid everything from sight, while the terror of the oracle precluded all thought of crying for help.

Sacrifice Before Sacred Cave.

The power of the "Long Juju" is now finally broken, and the fear which it inspired over hundreds of miles of territory and thousands of people is now a thing of the past. The following is typical of the cases brought to light. After heavily bribing the officiating priest for a favorable verdict, one man accused another of a crime, and summoned the latter before Chuku.

After both had offered a sacrifice of sheep and goats to the oracle, accuser and accused were taken to a spot in the river-bed, before the entrance to a sacred cave in the side of the gorge. They were ordered to stand with their backs to the cave-mouth while the oracle was announced by a priest concealed within. The accused was declared guilty, and ordered to sit on the trunk of a tree which jutted out over the water, while his accuser and all the members of the cult present were told to retire to a place above the cave and screened from the river.

The executioner next appeared with a "strangling stick"—a piece of wood eight inches to nine inches long, with a rope-noose firmly fixed to one end, and passing between a circular hole in the other. This stick was placed against the front of the throat and the victim was then quickly strangled by means of the cord, which was passed over his head. No resistance was ever made. The fear of Chuku seems to have been too overwhelming for any such idea. The head of the corpse was then struck thrice with great force on a sacrificial stone placed near the tree-trunk, after which the body was thrown into the river, trampled upon by the executioners, and finally interred on the bank. The head was often cut off and buried in another place, to prevent possible identification.

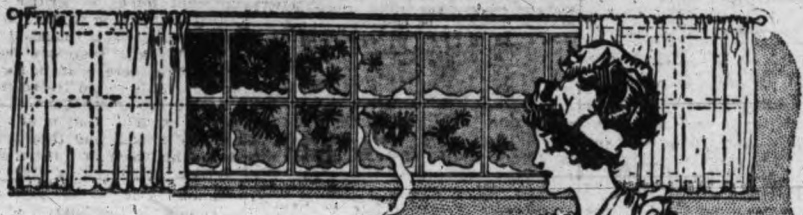

When Gen. Moreau was in England he was once the victim of a rather droll misadventure. He was present at a concert where a piece was sung by the choir with the refrain:

"To-morrow, to-morrow," Having a very imperfect knowledge of English, he fancied it to be a cantata given in his honor and thought he distinguished the words:

"To Moreau, to Moreau." Each time the refrain was repeated he rose to his feet and gracefully bowed on all sides, to the great astonishment of the audience, who did not know what to make of it.

ELECTRIC WIRING OF PICTURE THEATRES

Another Attempt Will Be Made to Adopt City By-law
Regulating Them

It is probable that at an early date the council will be asked to reconsider the situation with regard to moving picture houses. A by-law was prepared last year, which reached the stage of appearing on the order paper but was withdrawn on account of the chequered career of the electric wiring by-law. Alderman Gleason, then chairman of the electric lighting committee, refused to proceed with the measure unless the wiring inspection was carried out in the way laid down in his by-law. He contended that it was essential that a qualified wiring inspector should be appointed, to whom the city should look to keep an oversight upon the wires used in presenting motion pictures. The fire department is responsible for the maintenance of exits, and similar precautions being respected on every occasion of a performance, but wiring is a technical matter which it is held should be in charge of an expert.

The city electrician already is overloaded, and so the duties, which at present are not regarded as the responsibility of anyone, were to have been placed on the wiring inspector.

The buildings themselves do not comply with many of the regulations for theatres adopted in the new building by-law, for that measure was not made retrospective. However they are physically so situated that they can not fall in with the arrangements necessary, although gradual improvements are being carried out.

The new chairman of the lighting committee, Alderman Houston, proposes to take the subject up with the officials and hopes to bring down some proposal on the lines of the original by-law which was withdrawn on account of the reason stated, and to place this inspection in the hands of responsible officials. In the public interest it is as necessary to protect the cause of combustion as to safeguard exits.

SUPPORT THE CARNIVAL.

To the Editor.—I am afraid I am like a great many others in Victoria who have not given so far much help or support to Victoria citizens' committee in helping to get matter well under way for carnival week.

I am heartily in sympathy with their work and I trust they will be able to arouse a great amount of enthusiasm amongst us all, so that the carnival will prove a huge success. Let us all, old-timers and new comers, give them all the co-operation and help we can.

ROBERT W. CLARK.

Victoria, Feb. 5.

CUMBERLAND STRIKE.

To the Editor: On behalf, not of myself, but of the miners of Cumberland and Ladysmith, I ask the favor of as prominent consideration as you find it possible to grant me for the purpose of correcting the vicious misleading article in the local morning paper.

Believing that the Hon. Premier's statement of the government's and the Colliery Company's positions did not fit all the facts, this unscrupulous leech masquerading in the garb of journalism seeks to weaken the miners' position by a series of misleading conclusions. It says: "The miners and the general public have paid too great a price for the efforts on the part of the leaders of the miners to secure what we may admit they consider to be justice to Mr. Mottishaw."

The miners are not like Conservatives, toys in the hands of "leaders." Every action taken has been taken in obedience to an overwhelming majority vote of the men themselves. Nor is the strike an effort to secure justice "to Mottishaw." Mottishaw from first has volunteered to leave Vancouver Island. The point is that no other man who desires to remain on Vancouver Island can afford to do his duty on the gas committee until it is proved that Mottishaw must not leave for doing so. Again, "Mr. Williams has failed conspicuously to show that conditions were abnormal at Cumberland." Quite true; nor did he try to do so. The conditions, "abnormal" or otherwise, out of which the trouble arose, was at Extension, 15 miles from Cumberland.

Again, "Their own statement of their own case preclude the miners from new alleging that they went out because the mine was dangerous." Miners do not quit because mines are dangerous, or what mine in British Columbia would be working to-day? When death and hell run riot a thousand feet below God's daylight, there are more volunteers than there is room for. Facing dangers that would freeze the marrow in the bones of the Colliet, the miner lowers his tone, that is all. Still miners are human, and they ask, as they do in this case, that there shall be no needless sacrificing of life.

Again, "One would suppose that it is equally to the interest of the mine-owners that mining should be carried on under the safest conditions." True, but we have to deal with facts, not Colliet's suppositions. At Bellevue, Alta., on the fourth of the month the Miners' Union wired the mine inspector that the mine was unsafe. On the seventh the official found the mine quite satisfactory. On the ninth the mine blew up. Can the miners afford to sacrifice their right to examine and report for themselves? That is the core of the present dispute.

Again, "We think the laws of this province are in this respect everything that can be desired." The mine law lays the duty on the miners to appoint a gas committee, and the question in dispute is, shall the colliery corporation be permitted to punish the miners for doing that which the law requires him to do, or, in other words, will the minister of mines interfere to determine whether the operators are endeavoring to make this portion of the law ineffective?

On Wednesday last the premier read a report made by the chief inspector, in which it was admitted that the amount of air passing through the mine complained of by the gas committee, was less than the minimum required by the mine law—a complete vindication of the work of the mines gas committee. But if the quality of our mine laws are to be quoted, will the Colliet tell his readers that notwithstanding the possession of this report, proving an infraction of the mining law at its most vital point, the premier has failed to prosecute the colliery company? This non-enforcement reduces our mining law to an academic expression of opinion.

And again, a final quotation: "If they would rid their minds of this 'class consciousness' they would be able to find a means of settling their dispute with the company." Committee after committee has approached the company from the first day of the trouble. The company has refused to discuss the matter with them. Will the Colliet indicate how "class consciousness" has stood in the way, and again just what is the process necessary to "rid their minds" thereof? The minister of mines has been urged repeatedly to make an inquiry. Is it this "class consciousness" that prevents his so doing?

The mine workers believe that they are fighting a battle for mine safety—a duty which justly falls to the minister of mines. Will the Colliet explain why the honorable gentleman in question refuses to learn whether this is the case or not, and particularly in view of the fact that to prove that his department is doing its duty, will remove the cause of this trouble?

CONSIDER CONTRACT AND DAY LABOR PLAN

City Council Will Look Into Controversial Subject at Full Meeting

The city council was asked yesterday afternoon to determine its policy on the question of day versus contract labor.

The subject arose from a suggestion made by the Master Builders' Association recently that sewer work should be let in blocks of $50,000 or thereabouts, in order that local contractors might have a chance to bid.

The chairman of the sewers committee, Alderman Humber, and the city engineer, yesterday recommended that a policy should be reached on the subject.

The council decided to leave the matter over to a full council meeting.

A measure consolidating $2 local improvement assessment by-laws passed the council. It will enable the issue to be placed on the market at once.

The council also resolved to call for tenders for printing the annual municipal report for 1913.

On the motion of Alderman Porter it was decided to instruct the city treasurer and collector to close the list for delinquent taxes on September 4.

The tender of Hutchinson Bros. for 3,500 Tungsten lamps at $1.10 was accepted, and the usual contract will be drawn up, ratifying the arrangement.

The council also authorized the purchase of an adding machine for the waterworks department, at a cost of $155, less 2 per cent. for discount.

THE WEEK IN THE B. C. CHAMBER OF LEGISLATURE

Coal Debate and Accounts Inquiries Made Week of Some Interest

Perhaps the most outstanding feature of the week is the fact that the McBurnie government has added another stone in the building of its own mausoleum. This, of course, is the rejection of Parker Williams' motion for a governmental inquiry into conditions as they exist in the strike-ridden zone of Cumberland and district. When the funeral edifice is complete, it will probably be found that the stone above referred to is "the head of the corner."

Procrastination has always been the premier's long suit. He played it to perfection in the settlement of the railway terminals, is yet trumping with it on the navy question and threatens now to bring about a cataclysm by the indulgence of this same trait with regard to the aggravated situation of labor in the coal-mining areas of this province. The policy of hedging bids well to become monumental in this year's legislature, the government's motto apparently being:

"Never do to-day what you can put off until to-morrow."

But, mark the subtlety! Mark the double-dyed diplomacy! Immediately subsequent to the rejection of the arbitration resolution on the flimsy pretext that the government should not intervene in labor disputes, the first minister salves the feelings of his constituents, blinds the gaping wound that he has left on the body of labor men in the province with the soothing ointment of a special commission promise, with a soft bandage of a bright commissioner which is to conduct searching and pertinent inquiry.

Into what? Into the core of the labor troubles? Into that which is threatening to deal a heavy blow at the great working class of British Columbia? But no! Into generalities; into, if it please you, the production of coal, and the sale and distribution thereof. As well might a physician tending a patient suffering from heart disease, treat him for ankle-sprain. The cases are almost analogous.

Of almost as great interest to the reading public, may be, have been the proceedings of the public accounts committee, which, meeting for the first time in years, has pursued its inquiries to such an extent that several things before unknown have been fetched from their dark corner of seclusion into the cold light of day. Effectively presided over by Chairman Lucas, the committee has delved into its duties with praiseworthy vigor and action. It has examined vouchers, inquired into reasons for payment, and what is more, has received a more or less clear explanation from the premier as to the precise nature of that fat cheque which was paid over to a certain newspaper owner of this city in October last, in settlement of certain services in connection with the Songhees reserve. It has also unearthed reasons from deputy heads of departments why that same owner should receive the nucleus of the printing and lithographing contracts during the last twelve months. Throughout the week the committee has pursued its investigations with a courage and sincerity that can scarcely be too highly praised.

Yet another committee has done yeoman service during the past week. Its members have worked energetically from Monday morning to Friday night, and can thus go to their week-end rest with the knowledge that it is well earned. Chairman Miller and his conferees on the private bills committee—Messrs. Tisdall, MacGuire, W. J. Manson, Shattford and Shaw—have had one of the busiest weeks of their existence. In addition to a multiplicity of bills against which there was no opposition, they have been called upon to arbitrate on measures around which gathered the supporters of contending forces. A fair example may be cited in the case of the Shaughnessy Municipality Act, to the consideration of which quite a hundred mainlanders attended, and fired questions, conflicting evidence and multitudinous reasons at the committee during three long sittings.

To turn again to the doings in the

Opposition Not So Small as It Appears to Be—Sharp Attacks

House proper, for that after all is the focus-point of attraction, mingled admiration and satisfaction are raised by the strong fight which the member for Ladysmith and his colleague from Nanaimo are putting up against the overwhelming majority which they have to face. So far the latter gentleman has left the greater part of the opposition to be conducted by his more experienced brother Socialist, but he, too, evidently intends to get to grapple point on Monday next when he puts forward his "Eight Hour Day Bill."

Next to the attorney-general, Parker Williams is the hardest worker in the House. He is on deck every day and for every minute of every sitting. Nothing escapes his keen vision. He knows that the whole weight of his party is resting on his shoulders, and he leaves no stone unturned to criticize the actions of the government when they need it. His attention to detail is one of the most salient points of his work. The other day he pursued the attorney-general into a corner, and gave him the coup-de-grace (so to speak) with a clause from the criminal code. The attorney-general stammered like a boy who has not prepared his lesson.

The member for Newcastle is a treasure in the House, if it is only to save the visitors in the galleries from aggravated ennui. When he takes the floor the members come trooping from the lobbies, the swing chairs of the law-makers are turned in the one direction, and an unaccustomed hush steals over the chamber. It is not so much his ready wit, his easy eloquence and biting sarcasm that attract, as his deliberate, intonant manner of speaking. There is no monotony in his tones, but rather a hit that is at once attractive and arresting.

It has been his complaint, during the past week, that the pieces of legislation brought down by the government have been generally for the purpose of hitting the poorer men of the community: those whom reverses of fortune have placed in such a position as to be proper targets for overbearing jacks-in-office.

There is, for instance, a clause in the Offensive Weapons Act which gives police the power to search unoffending citizens if they suspect them of concealing arms, either on their person or in their houses. There is, besides, the Landlords' and Tenants' Act, which makes it easier for officials to dislodge a man's household gods; there is the attachment to Debts Act, of a like nature.

The principle inferred from these specimens of moribund legislation is briefly: "Kick a man when he is down." In the whole of the governmental programme there seems to be, after careful perusal, scarcely one item of legislation that will do anything to elevate the conditions, or make easier the lot of the workers of the province—the real nucleus of British Columbia's success-makers. It has been computed that 90 per cent. of the population of British Columbia is composed of workmen and workingwomen. Where is the Diogenes with his lamp who can find the veriest part of a scruple of consideration in the coming acts and those now before us, for them?

The coming week has several interesting things in store. The expectation of viewing the wild-eyed alarm along the government benches when John Place's bill is put forward, ought to fill the galleries. Then there is the premier's resolution against the Panama canal which comes up on the same day. Dr. Young is expected to announce the first president of the university early in the week, and there is every possibility that the finance minister might take it into his head to bring down the budget and estimates. The public accounts committee seems assured of pushing its investigation further, while the private bills and municipal matters committees will also be in full harness.

The portents point to a really interesting week over the Bay.

Columbia Lodge No. 2.
Bro. D. Dewar, team captain of the lodge, is taking advantage of every opportunity to have a degree team practice, and on Wednesday evening last about one hour was taken up in this manner. During the evening Bro. T. A. Burgess favored those present with a solo, which was much appreciated. Several candidates will have the initiatory degree conferred upon them next Wednesday evening.

Dominion Lodge No. 4.
Several candidates received the initiatory degree last Thursday evening, and the work was put on in a very satisfactory manner. The first degree will be exempted next Thursday evening.

Canton Victoria No. 2.
The social hall held by the Canton last evening proved a very successful affair. The hall was very prettily decorated for the occasion, and was favorably commented on by those present. All arrangements had been carried out very satisfactorily and reflected much credit upon the committee. Good music was furnished, the floor was in excellent condition; the refreshments were above reproach, and everything combined to make the evening a very pleasant one. The military uniforms worn by the members of the Canton and the handsome costumes worn by the ladies gave the hall a very pleasing effect. There was not too great a number present to allow all to enjoy themselves, about forty couples being in attendance. When the evening's enjoyment came to an end all expressed themselves as having had a very pleasant time. These social events being held by the Canton occasionally are now looked forward to by the members of the order in the city as they are assured the arrangements for their comfort and pleasure will prove satisfactory in every way.

Canton Victoria No. 2 is one of the most progressive organizations of its kind on the coast, and the membership is increasing rapidly. The officers and members of the Canton have received an invitation from Duncan Lodge to be present at the flying of the corner stone of the new building to be erected there shortly, and it is expected that a large number of the members will take advantage of the opportunity.

The next meeting of the Canton will be held on Friday, February 21, and as there is business of importance to be transacted the officers hope for a good attendance.

General Relief Committee.

The committee held its regular meeting last Monday evening, and all members were present, which demonstrated that the new officers are taking hold of the important work in a manner which will prove a credit to themselves and to the order as a whole. All brothers on the sick list were reported improving satisfactorily. The next meeting of the committee will be held on Monday, February 17, at 7.30 o'clock in the library.

OFFERED AS A SOP TO THE COALWORKERS

COMMISSIONER HAS BEEN APPOINTED TO INQUIRE

W. E. Burns, of Vancouver Receives Commission—Sittings May Be Held Next Week

W. E. Burns, the well-known barrister of Vancouver, has been appointed a commissioner under the Public Inquiries Act to investigate all circumstances and conditions in connection with the production, sale and distribution of coal. Mr. Burns, who is in the city, received his commission yesterday and will forthwith commence upon the duties assigned to him, which are calculated to last several months. In all probability his first sitting will be held at Vancouver during the coming week.

The appointment of the commissioner is the fulfillment of the promise made to the House a few days ago by the first minister, at the end of the debate on the coal situation. The urgency of the matter has been frequently brought to the notice of the legislature by Dr. McGuire and other private members. Special attention is to be given to the export branch of the industry, and transportation charges will also come under the probe.

This is by no means the first occasion when the high cost of fuel and the householders' grievances consequent thereon have been aired in the provincial House. A great many resolutions have been sent to Ottawa informing the federal authorities of the conditions and praying for a remedy. The Dominion authorities, however, have intimated that such conditions are of local origin and need a local inquiry.

It is declared by those acquainted with conditions that the present commission will, at the most, but touch the fringe of the real trouble, and that it is merely offered as a sop to the workers of the province in lieu of a more vital inquiry.

When we have to work only four hours a day, think of all the time we'll have to make chicken coops.

MADE TO THE MEASURE OF KIDNEY TROUBLES

Proofs Which Show How GIN PILLS Fit Such Cases.
No Matter How Severe

The First Story Comes from the Mining Country.

A suit of clothes made to measure is designed specially for an individual, the ready-made garment is manufactured for any person who cares to buy it. GIN PILLS are like made-to-measure clothes. They were not brought into existence to help every ailment which needs a cure. GIN PILLS are scientifically prepared to relieve the Tortures of Kidney and Bladder Troubles. These diseases were definitely under consideration before this remedy was compounded. The GIN PILL treatment was practically "made to measure,"—it fits these special cases in every detail. Just how well GIN PILLS measured up to the requirements of Sid Castleman's case may be seen from the grateful way he writes. Away in the mining district of Larder Lake, Ontario, he found relief from his Kidney and Urine trouble, as he thus outlines graphically.

"I am writing you to thank you for the GIN PILLS and LIVER PILLS and also to tell you the good your GIN PILLS did for me. I had been suffering for some time with my Kidneys and urine. I was constantly passing water which was very scanty, some days as many as thirty times and each time the pain was something awful and no rest at night. I began to feel quite worn out. I had heard of your GIN PILLS and decided to give them a trial at once. I sent my chum out to get them (about 60 miles) and I am pleased to inform you that in less than 6 hours I felt relief. In two days the pain had left me altogether. I took about half a box and to-day I feel as well as ever. I did and my Kidneys are acting quite naturally. Again thanking you for the Pills, some of which I always intend to keep by me." SID CASTLEMAN.

The Next From The Heart Of The City

Fancy how active the Chief City Circulation Agent of a large Montreal Newspaper has to be. He can't have Kidney Trouble and perform his arduous duties properly at the same time. Eugene Quessel, employed in the capacity referred to, tells how he secured relief after years of suffering. GIN PILLS brought about the welcome change. He writes:

"I have been suffering from Kidney Trouble for five long years. I had also rheumatism in all my bones and muscles, could not sleep nights and on some occasions could hardly walk. I had been treated by some of our best Physicians but without relief and I had lost over fifteen pounds, was very weak and friends who knew me before were astonished. One day I met one of our leading hotelkeepers who had been cured by your famous GIN PILLS and he advised me to try them. So I bought two boxes at my druggist's and before I had used one box I felt a big change, before I finished the second one I was completely cured, and I can assure you I can hardly believe it, for I had only known what I know now. I would not have spent over one hundred dollars for nothing when two boxes of GIN PILLS cured me."—Eugene Quessel.

Wherever You Are GIN PILLS Will Help You

You may be in the heart of the forest, like one of these men, or in the hurry of an active city life, as the other is, but Kidney and Bladder Trouble can still pursue you. The way to defy and rid yourself of these ailments is by the use of GIN PILLS. You can be satisfied before you buy them that GIN PILLS will bring relief, for a free sample will be sent to any sufferer, enough for a fair trial. Then buy the regular boxes at your dealer's—50c a box, 6 for $2.50. If six boxes do not give entire satisfaction your money will be refunded. Don't let Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, Backache or similar complaints bother you any more, when GIN PILLS are easily obtained.

NEWS OF PROVINCIAL TOWNS

NANAIMO

The Board of Trade and the Committee of Public Safety which latter was appointed at the recent public meeting to consider the Oscar explosion, are leaving no stone unturned in the endeavor to have a full investigation into the Oscar explosion held in Nanaimo.

Following the return of Mayor Shaw and Harbor Master Knarston from what is referred to as the preliminary investigation or inquiry in Victoria, a meeting of the committee was held in the Board of Trade rooms, the object being to hear reports from these two gentlemen and to ascertain, if possible, whether there will be a further inquiry here. It was resolved:

That the secretary write Captain Robertson asking him if the preliminary inquiry just held in Victoria finished the whole investigation and if not would he let them know at his earliest convenience when the full inquiry would be held at Nanaimo; and also that it is the wish of the Nanaimo citizens that the captain and crew of the late steamer Oscar be subpoenaed to appear before the commissioners in Nanaimo.

Failing to receive a satisfactory answer from Captain Robertson the Board of Trade and the committee will at once get in touch with the proper authorities in Ottawa again and press for a full inquiry in Nanaimo.

PRINCE RUPERT

The directors of the Prince Rupert general hospital have organized for the coming year. D. G. Stewart and O. H. Nelson were unanimously re-elected president and vice-president respectively by the directors. The board as constituted at present consists of President Stewart and the following gentlemen: O. H. Nelson, J. A. Kirkpatrick, C. V. Bennett and Dr. W. B. Clayton. The city council are represented by Aldermen Naden and Kerr and the provincial government by P. I. Palmer and H. Douglas. The two latter were the appointees for last year. It is expected the appointments for 1913 will be made by the government in a few weeks' time.

NELSON

With a view of fittingly celebrating the thirteenth anniversary of the surrender of Commandant Cronje, who capitulated at Paardeburg with 4,000 Boers, arms, horses, cattle and munitions of war, one of the most important British victories in the annals of the South African war, 1899-1902, the Veterans' Brigade of Nelson and district is arranging a gala entertainment to be given on February 27. All members and prospective members or anyone who has been engaged in active service in His Majesty's forces on land or sea are invited to assist in making this celebration worthy of the occasion.

Maj. Gen. Lord Aylmer, late inspector general of Canadian forces, now at Queens' Bay, who takes a deep interest in the movement, will preside at the Paardeburg celebration, which promises to eclipse all previous efforts on the part of the brigade.

ASQUITH'S HOME TOWN WILL DO HIM HONOR

Freedom of Borough of Morley to Be Bestowed on British Prime Minister

The busy little borough of Morley, one of a series of textile towns clustered in a triangular tract of country formed by the towns of Bradford, Leeds, and Dewsbury, is to bestow its highest honor—that of the freedom of the borough—upon the prime minister, its most distinguished son.

Mr. Asquith was born at Croft House, Morley, on September 12, 1852, and there he lived for seven years. His ancestors are said to have lived in the town for over 400 years.

In an inquiry at Morley, says a Daily Dispatch representative, I found that the only trace the municipal authorities had of this fact is that the Asquith family were the trustees of what was known in olden times as the Old Chapel, but which is now the St. Mary's Congregational church. It is said to be the only instance in England of a Roman Catholic church coming into the possession of a Nonconformist body.

When Mr. Asquith was seven years old, his father, Joseph Dixon Asquith, a manufacturer, died at Mirfield in the prime of life, and Mrs. Asquith removed to Huddersfield with her children, who were sent to the local grammar school.

Carrying a Banner.
Subsequently Herbert Henry Asquith and his brother William attended the City of London school, and the former, having obtained two scholarships, went to Oxford. This was in 1870, when he was entered at Balliol college. It is often said that while a scholar in London the prime minister that was to be was wont to occupy his spare hours in studying the Times.

Mr. Asquith has had little to do with Morley since he left over fifty years ago, but it is well known that he attended, with his parents, the Rehebooth chapel; and some time ago, in referring to this, Mr. Asquith stated that he recollected, as a small boy, taking part in the Sunday school procession and carrying a banner on the occasion of the rejoicings at the declaration of peace in the Crimea.

Boyhood Home.
Both the chapel which he attended and the house in which he was born are still utilized.
The house, which stands in its own grounds, is within two hundred yards of the main thoroughfare, but is almost hidden from view by mills and other tiling the estate.

DRUNKENNESS CAN BE CURED.

Old Fallacy That Drunkenness Cannot Be Cured Exploded.
Many men drink who desire to stop the habit. Whiskey, however, has undermined the constitution and created a craving that is not to be denied and the man must have whiskey or something that will remove the craving and build up the system and restore the nerves.

Samaria Prescription stops the craving, steadies the nerves, builds up the general health and makes drink actually distasteful and nauseous. It is tasteless and odorless and can be given with or without the patient's knowledge, in tea, coffee or food. It is used regularly by physicians and hospitals. It has cured thousands in Canada, and restored happiness to hundreds of homes.

Read what Mrs. G., of Hull, says of it and what it did for her.
"It is four months to-day since I started to use your remedy. I followed the directions and had the best of results. One week after I started using your remedy the patient stopped drinking and has not drunk a glass of liquor since. I hope you will accept my heartfelt thanks. Hoping God will bless your remedy wherever tried, I remain,

Mrs. G., Hull, Que."
(Name withheld by request).
Now, if there is anyone in your town who needs this remedy, tell them of it. Practical philanthropy can take no better form. If you have a husband, father, brother or friend who drinks, help them help themselves. Write to day.

A FREE TRIAL PACKAGE of Samaria with booklet giving full particulars, directions, testimonials, price, etc. will be sent in a plain sealed package to anyone mentioning this paper. Correspondence sacredly confidential. Write to-day. The Samaria Remedy Co., Dept. 75, 49 Colborne St., Toronto, Canada. Also for sale at Hall & Co's Drug Store, Cor. Yates and Douglas Sts., Victoria, B. C.

BIRTHDAY CALENDAR

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

Do not travel or embark in new schemes, unless you are sure of the motives of those who propose them. An even course will bring the best results.

Those born to-day will have tranquil lives, with much satisfaction derived from the higher studies and a fair amount of worldly success.

TO-DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

This day is the anniversary of one of those shocking deeds which sometimes disgraced "the good old times." When Count de Frontenac was sent back to defend Canada the Iroquois had recently perpetrated the horrible massacre of La Chine. But they "seemed as invulnerable as ghosts," so he determined to strike at their English friends. Accordingly, in the depth of winter, he organized three war-parties. The first formed at Montreal, consisted of coureurs-de-bois and "converted" Iroquois, with a few gentlemen bush-fighters, and was led by Sainte-Helene, son of Charles Le Moyne. With stern endurance they marched for days through frozen snow, and "mingled ice, mud and water." They had meant to attack Albany, but turned instead upon the smaller stockaded village of Schenectady. It was the night of February 8, 1690, and all unsuspecting of danger, the people—mostly Dutch—had left their gates wide open, guarded only by a few sentinels of snow. As they slept, their enemies stole softly in, made a circle round the houses, and screeched the war-whoop. Then "began a murder grim and great!" Men and boys, women and little children, were slain; many, still more unhappy, were taken prisoners, and by noon next day Schenectady lay in ashes.

HOURS WITH NATION BUILDERS

Sir Donald Mann
By Augustus Bridle

The thing a man's friends or his parents dream he will do and the thing he actually does, are sometimes as far apart as the poles. For instance the father of Sir Donald Mann intended him for a Presbyterian preacher. That was when the railroad-builder was a farm youth down at Acton, Ont., seven miles from Rockwood that sent James J. Hill rolling forth into the world of tamarac and steel. Judging from the amount of mentality Sir Donald has put into the business of helping to civilize a large portion of the earth, he would have been one of the most adventurous sky pilots ever known.

However it's sometimes hard to break through traditions. Picture D. Mann, D.D.—Sunday morning, top hat and long black coat, gloves and a cane impressively ascending into the vestry of a big stone church; organ softly playing; congregation shuffling in; shakes hands with an elder and turns up the hymns for the day; enters the pulpit and—

This may seem absurd. But I'm not sure that it mightn't have been possible; if only young Donald Mann could ever have been got into Knox College—without tearing it down. As a matter of fact Sir Donald is by no means a failure at making a speech; and he might have delivered sermons of a very remarkable character.

It happens however, that the sanctuary attended by Sir Donald Mann is a flat, red-brick building, corner of King and Toronto streets. The house is a castle-down by Scarborough Cliffs; tremendously picturesque with streams and groves, and called Fallingbrook. Before he built that Sir Donald lived on St. George street, fashionable quarter. In those days he rode in Mr. Mackenzie's street car. I remember one summer morning seeing him on the rear seat of one, dreamily smoking a fat, fragrant cigar. Nowadays by an edict of one R. J. Fleming he would be requested either to chuck that cigar or get off and walk. The only connection he has with street cars now is once in a while on his way back to the office, taking a swift jump across King street to escape being run over.

Otherwise he rides in a limousine that comes shuddering up from Fallingbrook. A huge, thick bushy man; hands in his overcoat pockets, padding along, half filling the elevator that whizzes him to third floor and a long, heavy-beamed office, big flat desk half across one end, behind that a long table; on the walls maps, maps—maps rolled up and flat—and by no means for decoration. Because in his young days at the Acton school he was apt at geography; which, most of the time since he tramped across the fields from his father's farm to the station, he has been helping to make by thousands of steel miles and hundreds of packing case towns on the prairie.

He lights a fresh, plump cigar; that comes up from a side drawer in the desk. First thing—a pack of letters? No. Any financier may be slave of his correspondence. He fingers a buzz-button, direct-connected up to the master of construction.

All the way down from the castle he has been thinking something over. Now he has come to the door.

"Good morning, Sir Donald!" A wiry-built, trail-making man cun-ning in the measure of C. N. R. lines anywhere between Pacific and Port Mann on the Pacific. Sir Donald, squirms in his stout chair, rolls his cigar, tother way on.

"Grant—on the line from A to X, what rails are we using?" "Sixty-pound, Sir Donald."

"Yes. Seven months ago we ran a branch line with sixties from A to L. That cuts off trails—eh?"

"Considerable—yes, sir."

"About what per cent?"

Figures approximated.

"Hm—hm! Well that adds so much to the life of that reach of rails. Now—nine years ago on the C-D line we laid sixties."

Mileage and ton-mileage computed. Hm! Take'm up. Traffic on that line—gone ahead forty per cent. Put down sixties. Good business to shift the old sixties to the A-X line. How many years will they do there?"

Problem for the Master of Con. to figure out; which he does in his own office for an hour while Sir Donald, still neglectful of his letters, ponders half a dozen other counter-manoeuvres in juggling tamarac and steel; rails bought five years ago were four years old then on a line of such-and-such ton-mileage; life enough in them yet to do on some other stub line for years enough to make it worth while. Bridge across the Z river—approaches done, piers half completed, won't be ready for traffic by the time the track-laying machine is up to it; must be hustled up—shift of a gang or so. Cut further along, ten per cent. nearer done than the fill on the ten-mile creek; even up there a bit.

For on all the seven thousand miles of C. N. R. steel there isn't a mile that Sir Donald can't tell you off-hand what it cost to build, what the grade is, what's the life of the rails and the ties, what the ton-mileage is now compared to what it was a year ago; revenues and cost, operation and maintenance, and construction—he has a memory as compact as a Baedeker. Mark Time Process at New York Until Railway Plans Become Formed

(By F. W. Stevenson &amp; Co.)

New York, Feb. 8.—Dulness was again the prominent feature and whole list rather firm. The copper producers' statement produced no heavy effect, and the foreign news was practically ignored. Traders appear to be somewhat confused and not as yet capable of fully realizing the significance of the Union Pacific dissolution plan. The feeling is general that Southern Pacific is likely to drag somewhat lower until after holdings of same have been fully distributed.

As far as Union is concerned, the opinion is entertained in good quarters that that road from an earning standpoint will not suffer from the dissolution; in fact many incline to believe that such benefits as there may be will work in favor of the parent company.

While the market of late has done little more than mark time, it is quite apparent that relatively little long stock is pressing for sale, and the inquiry in the loan crowd suggests the existence of a substantial short interest.

Fractional Bids on Portland Issues Only Recent Movement and No Bids Likely

Victoria, Feb. 8.—International Coal &amp; Coke Co. has declared a dividend of 1 per cent, payable on March 1st to holders of February 20. At the approximate selling value of 10c, with a value of stock at $1 this is on a basis of 10 per cent. return. The effect of the news stimulated active trading in the issue, the bid price rising three and a half cents, with sellers at forty-five. Coronation Gold was firm, with demand subject to a slight fall, advances having been rather rapid during the past week. The Portland Canal mining lands have not moved except fractionally, and for the present there is nothing to start an upward move of any proportion.

EUROPEAN CABLES*LOWER FOR WHEAT*Cash Demand Good and Exporters Ready to Buy at Winnipeg

Winnipeg, Feb. 8.—Notwithstanding lower European cables the market here was strong and active and closed at an advance. Unfavorable accounts of the India wheat crop from continued drought and adverse weather there was good cash demand for all grades, and exporters are ready to take what is offered, but offerings are very light. Receipts are still on the decrease, and there were 600 on the market to-day 457 cars inspected and 350 in sight. Cables and fax are steady. Cables closed at Liverpool unchanged to lower; Paris a lower; Berlin a lower; Budapest a lower, and Antwerp a up.
